

Rugha-Wolcott

WEeping WATER—(Special)—North Branch Lutheran church was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremony Sunday evening, August 24, at 7:30, when Miss Joan Rebecca Rugha, daughter of Mrs. Clara Rugha and the late John Rugha of Avoca, was united in marriage to Warren James Wolcott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd P. Wolcott of Weeping Water.

Miss Doris Rugha, sister of the bride, preceded the bride down the aisle. She wore orchid net and carried white gladioli.

The bride was on the arm of her grandfather, John Mohr, and they were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, William Finley. The bride was charmingly gowned in white lace and marquisette, with long sleeves and a round neckline. Her veil was finger-tip length, and hung from a tiara of pearls. Her arm bouquet was of white gladioli.

Rev. George Bergstraesser performed the ceremony in front of the altar, which bore lighted candles and flanked on either side by large baskets of white gladioli.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Carsten sang "Sweet Mystery of Life," and Lawrence Houseman sang "The Lord's Prayer." They were accompanied by Mrs. Henry

Smith. The two ushers, Miss Clara Jane Rugha, sister of the bride, and Miss Janice Lea Mohr, cousin of the bride, were gowned in pink, and wore corsages of white. Mrs. Rugha, mother of the bride, wore orchid color, and the groom's mother wore grey. Both had corsages of white.

The bride is a graduate of the Avoca high school and has been employed in the A.A.A. office at Weeping Water. The groom is a graduate of the Weeping Water high school, and was in the service of his country for three years. They will make their home in Lincoln, where the groom is attending the University of Nebraska.

Army Now Offers Many Opportunities

The United States Army is today offering qualified men finer opportunities than at any time in its history and in many cases far better than those offered in civilian life.

This statement was made last Wednesday in an interview with Master Sergeant Judd Green and Technical Sergeant Andy Collins, commanding the Army's Special Procedures team on its first visit to Plattsmouth.

Pay of one for a Private with regular service begins at $75.00 per month and extends through the non-commissioned grades to Master Sergeant at $247.50 per month. An additional 90 per cent increase is given for advancement. 50 per cent increase if the soldier is a member of a flying or glider crew and 50 per cent for parachutists engaged upon parachute duty. Family allowances for dependents add to the soldier's income at the rate of $50.00 for a wife, $30.00 for the first child and $20.00 for each additional child plus liberal allowances for dependent parents. If the soldier is one of the first three grades he is entitled to a monetary allowance in lieu of quarters and rations. The Sergeants pointed out that service men do not pay income, social security or withholding tax and considering the fact that food, clothing, quarters, medical and dental care and retirement benefits cost the enlisted man nothing, his take home pay is actually higher than that of many skilled workers in civilian life.

In addition to all this he has the advantages of National Service Life Insurance at reduced premiums, free mail, shopping privileges at low-cost Army post exchanges and commissaries and a thirty day vacation per year with pay not to mention three day passes.

When the two Sergeants were asked if they would rather be civilians, they very quietly smiled and said, "What do you think?"
