The first American patent is more than 300 years old. On March 6, 1646, a colonial iron worker, Joseph Jenkes, petitioned the general court of Massachusetts to recognize the originality of his water-power saw-mill and grant him a patent. It did.

Farm Bureau to Hold Captains' Meeting

The Cass County Farm Bureau held a meeting at Louisville on Wednesday evening, August 27. Charles Marshall, state president, was the guest speaker for the evening. Mr. Marshall gave a very impressive talk about the trip east which he made recently to study the marketing conditions of livestock. He expressed his concern and alarm over the attitude of the city consumers, who blame the farmers of the middle west for the present high food prices, with emphasis on meat prices.

The Farm Bureau will hold a captains' meeting, Tuesday, September 9 at 8 p.m., in the Louisville hall.

David Engel and Claude Young will be representatives from Lincoln.

The following members have taken the responsibility of getting captains from the 17 Cass county precincts:

John Rieke, Liberty, Avoca; Sherman Cole, West Rock Bluff; June Keil, Plattsmouth; Harry

Bricker, South Bend, Salt Creek; Richard O. Cole, East Rock Bluff; Elmwood; Mrs. Walter Weiss, Eight Mile Grove, Mount Pleasant; Lester Meisinger, Weeping

Water; Ray Mayfield, Louisville; Center; Clyde Wenzel, Stove Creek; Tipton; Royal Smith, Plattsmouth; Nehawka; and Robert Wall, Greenwood.
