The Proof of a Christian

Scripture: I John 4:15-21; 5:10-13; II John 4-6

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

WHAT does it mean to be a Christian? It is not enough to live in a "Christian" land, and be a Christian in the sense of not being a pagan. It is not enough to be a member or a communicant in a Christian church. It is not enough to make a profession, or to wear a Christian label.

The New Testament writers are all agreed that to be a Christian is more than that, and, though they may express it in different ways, they are all agreed about what are the marks, tests or proofs of being a Christian.

These are all comprised in being Christlike—in the outward and open confession of faith, as Jesus always expressed His faith, and in the inward life of love and grace, following the example of the Master and obeying His commandments.

John puts all the emphasis upon love; and that is where Paul puts it too, for he says in his famous eulogy of love, in I Corinthians 13, that it is useless to have gifts, a 1 understanding of mysteries, and even faith and miracle-working power, if one has not love. It is the greatest of all things, and the one thing that abides when everything else fails.

James and Peter are agreed about this. James says that love, if it is real and vital, will manifest itself in practical living. Peter defines love, and the Christian life, as "partaking of the divine nature." Note, too, how exactly that is the idea of John, for he says that "he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God; and God in him." Paul, too, in his prayer addressed to God in behalf of those whom he had won to the Christian way, used like words: "that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith."

Yet, when one turns from these plain tests of the Christian to consider the millions of professing Christians, what a discrepancy one finds between the ideal and the actual!

In every church and sect there is a lack of the evidences of the character and works of Christian love. And, in every church and sect, there are the sincere souls, who truly seek to follow their Master in gracious living. In all communions they are found, Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish, and even in those of other religious professions, who are like the Gentiles, whom Paul commended of old because they sincerely and earnestly followed the best that they knew.

It is these who are the true friends and followers of Jesus—some of them the sheep that He said were in other folds, but whom He none the less claimed as His own.

If we deplore the fact that there is not more love in the world, as the evidence of true Christianity, let us be thankful that there is so much, that so many are Christlike in their character and deeds as well as in their profession.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 7, 1947.
The Golden Text is: Every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God" (Hebrews 3:4). Other Bible citations include, "Thou are worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power; for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created" (Rev. 4:11).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love" (p. 275).

Mixed Yearlings $34 at Omaha

Better fat cattle Monday on the Omaha market held the previous week's 50c-$1.00 advance, steers quotable to the recently established new all-time high of $36.50, and steers-and-heifers scoring $34.00, a new all-time peak for mixed yearlings. Fed heifers reached $31.00 and were rated eligible for $32.00. However, under $30.00 trade was drabby and uneven, some sales 25 cents or more off. Cows were steady at $11.25 to $20.00, odd heifers to $21.00. Stockers and feeders also sold steady, mainly $20.00-$26.25, with 2-year-old feeders $28.75, within a quarter of the all-time top for that class. Steer calves reached $26.00, heifer calves $22.00, and feeding cows $14.85. Hogs, which last week more than recovered early losses, continued their price climb Monday at Omaha, selling 50-75 cents higher, good to choice barrows and gilts from 180 pounds up, at $26.00, mostly $26.25 and $26.35, a few $26.40. Sows moved to $26.00-$26.25. Fat lambs, meanwhile, held last week's advance of $1.50-$1.75, to sell at $19.00 up, mostly $23.00 to $24.25. Slaughter ewes clung to a $9.00 top, and feeder lambs, scarce, were quotable to $22.00 or better.

Among recent sales:
C. H. Dysart, 19 hogs, wt. 2252, $25.25.
T. W. Hansen, 57 hogs, wt. 238, $25.25.
Anton Nielson, 19 hogs, wt. 246, $25.25.
Amos Bates, 19 hogs, wt. 200, $25.00.
Robert Wiles, 14 hogs, wt. 225, $25.00.
Lane Supernau, 29 hogs, wt. 267, $24.25.
Albert Pool, 40 hogs, wt. 200, $24.25.
Dr. J. W. Brendel, 16 hogs, wt. 206, $25.35.
Robert Dankleff, 10 hogs, wt. 195, $25.35.
Bernard Bockelman, 25 hogs, wt. 227, $25.00.
Merle Rogers, 10 hogs, wt. 243, $25.25.

Bees born in the fall of the year may live through the winter and reach an age of nine months. But worker bees born when pollen and nectar are plentiful during the summer usually work themselves to death within two months.
