Youth Honesty Saves Money

On last Friday, Rex Young, well known auctioneer, was at Weeping Water where he was selling articles at the home of Mrs. Eli Parker, whose husband died a short time ago.

He was selling articles that had been taken out of a small shed, and was just to take up the sale of a pile of iron scrap. While he was getting ready to sell the scrap, Verner Dettmer, son of William Dettmer, of Weeping Water, was looking over the pile and picked up a flashlight that he looked over and then handed to Louie All-gayer, who looked over the flashlight and then handed it to Mr. Young. Unscrewing the top, Rex found that there was a bunch of bills in the flashlight which had been concealed there. Later the money was counted and it was found that there was $134 in the flashlight. It was indicated that Mr. Parker had at one time placed $225 in the light but withdrawals had reduced the amount to that found.

Mrs. Parker gave the youth a reward for his honesty and foresight in recovering the money. This shows the honesty of the boy and also the fact that people should look over the stuff that they are putting out for sale, as you can never tell what may be overlooked Mr. Young states.

Bellevue Five Wins Opener

The basketball season of 1947-48 was opened for the Blue Devils on Monday evening at the high school gym where Bellevue annexed a 35 to 30 win over the local team.

The locals suffered from the inability to make their free tosses good, while Bellevue was able to make the greater part of their chances count.

The Plattsmouth quintet led the way in the early part of the battle but in the last few moments of the contest the visitors swept forward to tie, and finally win in the dying seconds of the struggle.

Schiefelbein and Dennis led the Bellevue scoring with eight points while Ofe and Meisinger were high for the Blue Devils with seven each.

Plattsmouth held a comfortable lead at the half 17 to 11 and continued the lead on into the third period when they massed 23-20 edge as the game went into the final period.

While the clock ticked off the game the visitors were able to tie the game 29 to 29 with two and a half minutes left in the battle. Schiefelbein and Dennis were able to sink field goals to step into the lead where the free throw of Sullivan added another point to the lead.

Plattsmouth will have their second game of the week on Wednesday at South High, Omaha, and on Friday will journey to Lincoln to clash with Lincoln Northeast.
