

Truck and Transport Have Small Wreck

James Elliott of Avoca was returning to his home Saturday afternoon in his truck after buying a few head of livestock at the sale barn when he noticed that the car ahead of him, which was driven by E. S. Newton of Plattsmouth, coming to a stop in the lane of traffic. Elliott took to the right shoulder of the highway and pulled back on the highway and collided with a Tyson-Long Gas transport which was coming from the south. Newton stated that he was preparing to pick up his wife and daughter who were waiting for him at the place where the accident occurred.

No one was injured and damages to the Elliott truck amounted to $300 and to the gas transport $150 according to the sheriff who investigated the accident.

Mrs. J. H. Davis, circle chairman, opened the business session

Files Suit Against Cass County

In the office of the clerk of the district court Monday morning an action was filed in which William M. Stoner, assignee of the Fidler Transfer Co., is the plaintiff and the County of Cass Nebraska defendants.

The action is an appeal from the action of the board of county commissioners disallowing claims of the Fidler company, as not being filed within the time specified by law.

There are a number of claims and they aggregate $6,032.

Sheriff Picks Up Youth's Rifles

Rifles were confiscated by the sheriff's office from John L. Hofus, Jr., George Sorich, Jr., and Wm. L. Brown, all of Omaha, Sunday afternoon after they were found back on the property of a farm north of Plattsmouth.

The farmer had told them a few minutes before to leave his property because he feared stray rifle shots may hit his stock. The farmer had lost one cow previously and had several other shot in the leg by hunters.

Sell Vanek Land In South Plattsmouth

Saturday morning sale of real estate in the case of Antonia Vanek vs. Anna Vanek, et al was held at the county court house.

The land sale was in charge of Attorney Richard Peck, referee in the case, with Smith & Lebens as the attorneys.

The land which consists of some four acres on south Lincoln avenue was sold to Clyde Meisinger for $3,050.

POLICE COURT NOTES

Saturday afternoon Judge C. L. Graves had a short session of police court to hear complaints that had been filed against Royal Green for intoxication and one against William Jackes, charging him with intoxication and disturbing the peace.

Green was given a fine of $10 and costs and Jackes was fined $10 for intoxication and $18 on disturbing the peace.

PURCHASES NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Senf have purchased the J. P. Peterson property in the south part of the city and are planning to move to the new home in a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson bought the Lohnes residence at 10th and First avenue sometime ago and are to move to the new home to reside in the future.

Saturday Fight Reaches Court

Jim Davis and Freeman Blough both inspectors at the Bomber plant, Fort Crook, were involved in a fracas in the vicinity of Sixth and Main Street, Saturday afternoon around 3 p. m.

After the fracas Davis was taken to Dr. Brendel's office for first aid then taken to the Methodist hospital, Omaha, or emergency treatment. Davis stopped a blow near his right eye which ruptured a blood vein behind the eye ball. Blough, told the sheriff that Davis was abusing him Friday evening and at that time he ignored him. Saturday afternoon Mr. Blough and his wife were in a local tavern when Davis came in and again began abusing him and a fist fight followed. In county court Monday morning Blough pleaded not guilty to charges of disturbing the peace which were filed against him by the county attorney.

Charges of disturbing the peace have also been filed against Davis. Blough's trial is set for next Monday morning, and Davis's will be after he is dismissed from the hospital.

Blough was released on bond until the hearing.

CAR LEAVES ROAD

A 1946 Buick driven by Donald W. Hutzinger of 3105 Ed Creighton boulevard, Omaha, left the road south of the Union corner traveled up a steep bank on the left hand side of the road and rolled. The car traveled 160 feet off of the highway. Hutzinger and his passenger, Jack D. Jensen, of 2534 Saratoga, Omaha, only received a few cuts. Damages to the car were almost total.

Jensen who had borrowed the car from Sylvia C. Abraham, 15 So. 8th street, Council Bluffs, Ia., who is a nurse at the Mercy Hospital in that city, told the sheriff that they were traveling south and were preparing to pass a truck on a hill when they noticed a car coming from the opposite direction. The highway was slick from the frost and they took to the left shoulder and rolled.
