

Greenback Party Basing Campaign On Funny Money

By WILLIAM P. LUCE
United Press Staff Correspondent
CRARYVILLE, N. Y., (U.P.)—John G. Scott, presidential nominee of the Greenback Party, is conducting his campaign this year on a budget limited to "postage and prayer."

Running under the slogan, "Stop Boom-Bust!", Scott is pledged to an eight-point program, including paying off the national debt, halving inflation and paying pensions to 12,000,000 persons—all without raising taxes.

Scott said he will make campaign trips only "where expenses are paid by those requesting trips and talks."
He proposes to fulfill his campaign promises by taking "funny money" out of circulation. In the monthly newspaper Money, which he edits, "funny money" is described like this:

Cites Figures
"Officials of the U. S. Treasury say we have minted and printed about $28 billion in cash money. . . . About $11 billion is all the cash money we have in this country. . . . Treasury officials also tell us we have on deposit in the banks $155 billion. How can we deposit 14 times as much money as we have in the whole country?"

"The answer is easy. All except the $11 billion in cash is funny money. . . . Funny money is manufactured in commercial banks with a fountain pen, ink and paper; it is just bank book-keeping, figures in bank books. That's why we call it funny money."

Scott doesn't kid himself about winning the election and moving into the White House.

The place of minor parties in American political life, he said, is in their "educational and protest standing; unless God seeks to use us to accomplish the impossible."

Scott gives Henry A. Wallace's party an important place in today's political picture. He said he believes Wallace will poll about 10,000,000 votes, which will be "a healthy protest to brass-hat rule."

Runs Small Farm
Scott is a retired school teacher who now describes himself as a "subsistence farmer." He lives on a small 1/2 m here, about 40 miles south of the state capital at Albany.

For 12 years he has been editor and publisher of Money. It was probably his writing in Money which brought him the presidential nomination.

Scott's running mate is Granville B. Leake, South Bend, Ind., an ex-preacher and farmer.

The Greenbackers have been on the American political scene almost as long as the Republicans. The party was organized in Indianapolis, Ind., in 1874.

The party has been active in most elections since then, except for a period when it supported William Jennings Bryan on the basis of his "free silver" platform.

Former Office Boy Gets 50-Year Award

PONCA CITY, Okla., May 13 (U.P.)—A 50-year span with Continental Oil Company that matches the pattern of the American success story, W. H. "Billy" Potter, at left, receives a diamond-studded gold pin of recognition from President L. F. McCollum. Accompanying the award was a substantial increase in salary.

Completing a 50-year span with Continental Oil Company that matches the pattern of the American success story, W. H. "Billy" Potter, at left, receives a diamond-studded gold pin of recognition from President L. F. McCollum. Accompanying the award was a substantial increase in salary.

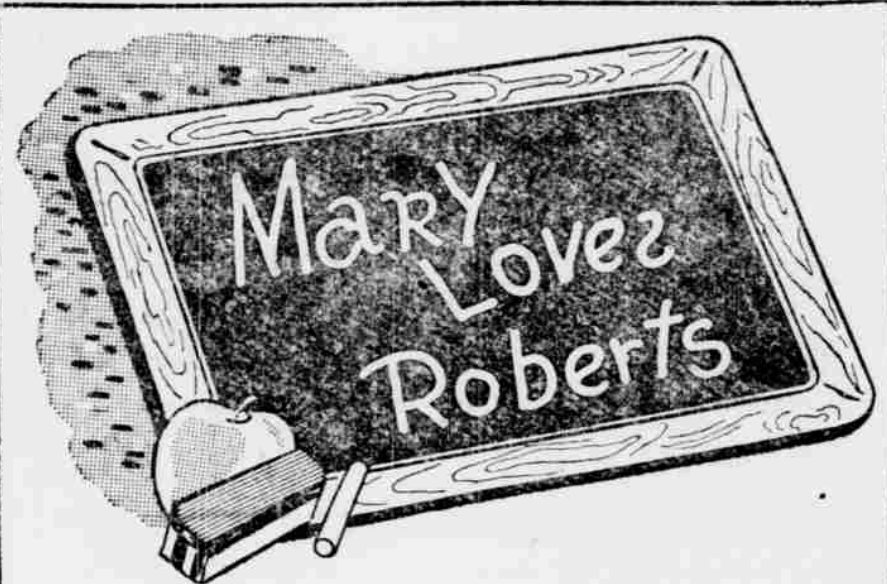

With a job as office boy as his stepping stone, at the age of 13, Potter moved up through various promotions, married his boss' secretary, once went 39 years without missing work due to illness and today is the company's assistant director of marketing administration.
After receiving the award at a dinner honoring his service record, Potter returned to work—because he's going to continue "on the job" for another 15 months before retiring.

GANG UP ON SUSPECT
MONESSEN, Pa. (U.P.)—The police of this community received a concrete dividend on the time and effort they put into formation of the Police Midget Athletic League.
Stanley Szewczyk might be a free man, instead of going to jail charged with stealing a $150 box of tools, had it not been for boy members of the league.
Four boys, spotting Szewczyk fleeing down an alley, ran after him. Attracted by the shouts, other youths joined the chase and soon cornered him. Then the boys, about 50 strong by this time, surrounded Szewczyk until police arrived.

The American clipper sled can coast faster than 70 miles per hour, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. The passenger lies flat on the sled in a "belly-flop" position. He wears spiked shoes and uses his feet for both steering and braking.
