Old Time Resident Pays Visit to City

Albert Hunter of Kansas City, Missouri, was in the city Friday for a few hours to enjoy a visit in the community where he had once made his home back some forty years ago.

Mr. Hunter resided here when a youth and worked for a time for the late Glenn Perry southwest of Plattsmouth, and recalls Virgil and Russell Perry as boys at that time. He recalls the former hotels, the Perkins House, then operated by Mr. and Mrs. John Corey and the City Hotel or the Goss House with the late P. F. Goos as the proprietor.

He made a trip up high school hill to see the old high school building and was surprised to find the one story building gone and in its stead the new and modern Central building and the old Central building also gone the many years. There are a few here that he could recall but a whole generation has grown up and become old timers since he was here.
