

Telephone Co. Add to Toll Line Service

The first step by The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company toward integrating its long distance facilities in the nationwide toll dialing program was initiated recently with the ordering of special inter-toll dialing equipment for installation at Tecumseh. C. C. Donley, general traffic superintendent, in making the announcement explained that the purpose of inter-toll dialing is to permit long distance operators to dial subscribers at other towns direct without routing calls through operators at those points. The benefit to the public is in faster and more efficient service. The procedure, however, will involve no change in the customer's method of placing long distance calls. Customers will dial and ask for "Long Distance" just as they always have. The company's plan in its first phase is expected to be completed late next year, Donley said. It will permit long distance operators at Lincoln, Beatrice, Nebraska City, Falls City and Auburn to dial subscribers direct at Tecumseh, Adams, Sterling, Burr Cook, Crab Orchard, Elk Creek, Johnson, Burchard and Table Rock. It also will permit Tecumseh operators to dial subscribers direct at Lincoln and other dial exchanges reached via Lincoln and such as Plattsmouth, Seward, Elmwood and others.

Progress toward nationwide toll dialing is being made in many sections of the country at the present time. For example, operators in 13 eastern cities, including Chicago, can now dial subscribers at New York City direct. The Lincoln Company is looking forward to the consummation of the plan by making provision for the installation later on of inter-toll dialing equipment at its dial exchanges as well as those being converted to dial operation. A major installation will be made at Hastings where a new telephone building is being erected for the installation of dial service. Fifty-three of the Company's 121 exchanges are now dial operated.

Taking Census At Nebraska City By Volunteers

Nebraska City, like Plattsmouth has been sustaining a growth since the early days of the world war, a growth that has kept them guessing as to the population of the city, the question of what the shift in population has been is now being determined by an unofficial but what is promised to be an accurate check of the residents of that city.

The woman's division of the Chamber of Commerce is taking an unofficial check of the residents and when the results are tabulated it will be possible to find just how the population stands.

Not only are they counting noses as to population but also are checking the population for school purposes and taking a "religious census" for the services of the churches.

This is an excellent idea and might be employed here where there is little doubt that the city has grown greatly in population since the 1940 census. At that time there was 4,268 persons listed as residents of Plattsmouth, living in the ordinary residential property then in existence. Now with every house occupied, dozens of new homes built and buildings remodeled into apartments as well as homes made into apartments, there is certainly a decided gain in the population of the community.

Cub Scouts Prepare For Fall Season

The Cub scouts of Plattsmouth are getting organized for the fall season and getting their plans outlined for the coming year with a great deal of interest shown in the work by the young members and their leaders.

The dens held their picnic party for August the past week and a fine group of the Cubs and their parents were on hand to join in the festive occasion.

There was plenty of good things to eat and the members of the group had all the ice cream that they might desire, afforded them by the Tastee shop and this was the climax of a very fine time.

Wayne Feldhausen was graduated from the Cubs to the regular advanced Scouts and was received into troop 365, of which Gene Lingford is the scoutmaster. Wayne was welcomed into the Scouts by John Bergmann, Jr., in an appropriate way and will now be ready for his advancement work.

The Cub leaders are preparing to have the dens filled to full strength for the coming year that promises to be a very successful one in every way.

-"BUT I WAS RIGHT DEAD RIGHT!"

Don't Be
"DEAD" Right
on Labor Day
Drive Right

"I was going into that intersection first. I had the right of way—that truck driver should have stopped when he saw me—I was right, dead right."

"Yes dear—you always were right—the other fellow always wrong. That's why we're here."

You know the kind, you've met him on the road—and ducked. He always barges through traffic when it's a question of split-second judgment. Never anticipates other drivers' actions—just assumes that traffic will give way. Owns the road. Drives with his horn.

He may get away with it for a time plus a few tickets because other drivers are more careful, more conscientious. But his kind eventually steps on the gas once too often—and for the last time he is "right—dead right!"

4,000 people died last year because "know-it-all" drivers violated rules of the road and the courtesies of driving. Good drivers never need to hold cemetery post-mortems. They drive carefully and live longer.
