Nehawka

By Mrs. F. O. Sand

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Thoren Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Ardon Ruhnman of Plattsmouth, Clarence Schmadeke, county agent, called at the home of Mrs. Thoren Tuesday to plan some extension club work.

Shirley Joergler returned to Davenport, Iowa, Tuesday after spending a two weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Joergler.

Mrs. R. R. Anderson, wife of Dr. Anderson, entered St. Mary's hospital at Nebraska City Sunday, where she underwent surgery Monday. Her condition Tuesday was serious and Wednesday she was somewhat improved.

The contract for the mile of road from the highway into Nehawka was let to Condon-Cunningham company of Omaha by the State Highway Department. Work will be started soon. It will include a 225 foot bridge across the Weeping Water creek. The cost of the road and bridge will be $119,914. The bridge and the fill across the creek bottom will be built during the winter months.

Mrs. Nelson Berger and her sister, Miss Allegra Wilkens, of Lincoln, returned Thursday from a trip to western Nebraska and Colorado. At Haxton, Colorado, they visited their brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilkens. They accompanied the Wilkens to Denver to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor and family and to see the new home the Wilkens purchased there and which they will occupy in January. They visited friends at Sterling, Colo. On the return trip they stopped at Wadena, Nebr., and visited a niece, Mrs. Bruce McCallum and family. Mrs. Berger spent Wednesday night with her sister, Miss Allegra Wilkens at Lincoln.

On Wednesday evening the American Legion Auxiliary will serve a football banquet in the auditorium. Tickets will be $1.25 a plate. University of Nebraska coach, Doug Russell, will be the guest speaker and will show pictures of one of the Cornhusker players. A football trophy will be awarded to the most valuable player of this season and an athletic jacket to the runner-up.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Berger attended a family dinner at Lincoln Sunday which honored

Mrs. Halbersleben of Boston, Mass., who leaves Friday for her home. Relatives from DeWitt, Clatonia and Lincoln attended.

A prefabricated Weyer house has arrived at Nehawka. It will be taken to the Robert Wunderlich farm northwest of Nehawka and will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ross, tenants on the farm. It is understood the house can be erected in one day.

On Thursday evening, the American Legion held a games party at the auditorium. The Auxiliary served the lunch. Prizes were turkeys, geese and ducks. There was a large crowd present.

The library was cleaned recently and since it is built of logs it was treated for wood weevil. The Nehawka Woman's club purchased new grates for the fireplace in which coal will be burned.

On Wednesday evening at a very impressive service at the Methodist church, the Future Homemakers of America received into their organization three new members, Elaine Wolph, Betty Simonds and Peggy Sand. Parents and friends were invited. The program consisted of a song "Prayer" by the F. H. A. girls; Reading by Beverly Benner; Piano solo, Peggy Sand; Chalk Talk by Doris Franke, Marjorie Whipple and Miss Minerva Schiefert; song "The Home of Tomorrow" by F. H. A. girls. The officers of the local chapter are Lela Edmonds, president; Margaret Knabe, vice-president; Alice Gregg, secretary-treasurer; Valerie Mayfield, news reporter and parliamentarian. The chapter mothers are Mrs. Harry Knabe and Mrs. Raymond Mayfield, and the sponsor is the Home Economics teacher, Miss Schiefert. After the program a reception was held in the dining room. Lela Edmonds and Mrs. Raymond Mayfield presided at the lace covered table which was centered with a vase of red roses, the chapter flower.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Field and daughter, Arlene Sue, of Bewawee, Nevada, and Mrs. Elton Newman and daughter, Linda, of Junction City, Kansas, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hall Pollard Sunday.
