State Conference On Safety Meeting

Announcement was made today by E. P. Tinker, Jr., Executive Director of the Nebraska Safety Council, of the Third Annual Traffic Safety Conference to be held Nov. 19 and 20 in Lincoln.

The conference will include members of the Safety Council's State-wide Advisory Board, the Board of Directors and special guests. Some 150 persons are expected to gather at the Hotel Cornhusker to discuss the state's traffic safety problems in the day-and-a-half event.

Widely-known speakers will make their appearances at the meeting. Nationally prominent men will include: Ned Dearborn, President of the National Safety Council; Amos Neyhart, Administrative Head, Institute of Public Safety of Pennsylvania State College; Paul F. Hill, Special Field Representative of the National Safety Council; and Nebraska's Governor Val Peterson.

The group's number one project will be the discussion of the three legislative matters to be presented to the Unicameral in January. They include adoption of Act II of the Uniform Code, legalizing chemical tests in drunk driving, and legal recognition of the Nebraska Safety Council.

BOXER DECIDES PULPIT EXCELS PRIZE RING
TULSA, Okla., (AP)—It may seem like quite a step from the boxing ring to a pulpit, but not for Ted Cotton of Tulsa.

Cotton, 33, a professional fighter for years, is now a freshman ministerial student at the University of Tulsa.

He began boxing in high school and later managed several fighters.

Cotton said he decided to enter the ministry after years of "asking myself what my purpose on earth was."

"About a year ago I found the answer to the question," he explained. "I feel that I have a message to deliver the teachings set forth by Jesus."

IRON AGE HUTS FOUND
ROME (AP)—Prof. Pietro Romanelli, archaeologist, announced discovery of hut remains from the early Iron Age. They were found on Rome's Palatine Hill. Romanelli said the huts were built about the time of the founding of the city, which according to legend, was in 753 B.C.

A movement is under way among New Mexico sportsmen to increase the big game hunting fee to $75 for non-residents.

Butter-nut BREAD'S GOOD IDEAS

KITCHEN TRICK
TO MAKE really savory clam chowder, add a small pinch of thyme, a bay leaf and a few caraway seeds. The seasoning is as important to good chowder as the clams.

HOUSEHOLD HINT
SAFELY WHITEN your good linen handkerchiefs without bleaching the embroidery. Just soak hankies overnight in cold water to which has been added 1 teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Wash next day in a mild suds bath.

RECIPE
TONGUE ROLLS
2 lbs. spinach 1/2 c. sour cream
2 tsp. margarine 2 tsp. horseradish
8 slices cold cooked tongue
Wash spinach and cook 10 mins. in salted water. Drain thoroughly; press out water, then chop very fine. Melt margarine, add spinach and seasoning. Place tablespoon of spinach on each tongue slice. Roll then fasten with toothpick. Arrange in baking dish, mix horseradish with cream and pour over top. Bake 20 minutes.

TRUE BLUE
LIKE A tried-and-true friend, Butter-nut Bread is dependable — always good, always fresh, always tasty and nutritious. Look for the blue gingham wrapper — the mark of true-blue quality in bread.

Tut, tut nothing but Butter-nut Bread

You Can Be Thankful for Bumper Crops and Pleasant Living

Nebraska has been particularly blessed this year. Corn, wheat, alfalfa, sugar beets and pasture grasses have all produced bountifully.

Nebraskans can be thankful, too, for this state's excellent liquor control statutes—clear, enforceable, backed by public sentiment.

Since violating taverns risk loss of their license, most tavern-keepers strive to operate in the public interest—to keep their places clean, wholesome and decent—to eliminate sales to excessive drinkers and minors.

It's your duty, as a citizen, to demand strict enforcement of the law . . . to discourage excessive drinking and unsocial conduct.

The brewing industry, working for strict law enforcement, welcomes all opportunities to cooperate with citizens to this end.
