

City Council Hears Need of Flood Control

(Continued from Page One) steps on flood control could be successfully undertaken. He stated that after the holidays there could be some practical work carried out on the soil conservation district and the Henningson firm would be glad to give all possible aid in working out the plans to tie in with the conservation program. This would be without any cost to the city as part of their services to their client.

Judge Paul E. Fauguet, who was present, stated that in the area in the south part of the city and adjoining territory, there had been agreements signed with land owners in that section. H. A. Schneider, Tim Woster and R. C. Cook signing up their land that drained into the flood area as a part of the district, bringing in 300 acres out of the 600 acres in the proposed district.

In the routine business of the evening, R. F. Iverson and Lloyd Frady, residing in the north Sixth street section, appeared before the council to urge that the extension of the street be cleared up so that the residents north from the Frady home place the box sewer caved in at 5th and Main street and that this work was now well underway.

It was voted to increase the pay of Logan Covert, of the street department force, to $1 an hour, as he was serving as lead man for the city working force.

Councilman Rebal moved that the city attorney look into the matter of the breaking of one of the city electroliners some time ago by a Swift & Co. truck and that the company be required to pay for the electroliner.

A communication was received from an attorney representing W. C. Grebe in regard to the sewer district on Wintersteen hill that had been protested by the complainant. This was referred to the city attorney.

The report of Chief of the Fire Department Henry Donat was received, covering from January 1, 1947 to date, covering some 37 fires, a number of these being in the rural areas. This was placed on file.

Police Judge C. L. Graves reported for the week of November 14th that there had been four arrests and fines and costs of $26.50 collected.

There was some discussion of the sale of the property formerly occupied by Charles Schimmerhorn in the south part of the city. Bids had been asked and several received. It was not clear that the bidders had understood that they were required to pay the new paving cost on Gold street, and the matter was turned over to City Attorney Harold Lebers for examination and to contact the bidders.

Clyde Rosborough, chairman of the street, alleys and bridges committee, reported that the rocking of Oak street leading to the cemetery, had been completed.

Mr. Rosborough also stated that the firm of William Kief & Son had been secured to replace the box sewer caved in at 5th and Main street and that this work was now well underway.

Judge Charles L. Graves Has Anniversary

He located in Union in 1887 and was instrumental in getting the Union Ledger established and for many years was the publisher of the paper, as well as studying law with several of the best known members of the Cass county bar including the late Judge A. N. Sullivan and Allen Beeson.

In 1928 Judge Graves moved to Plattsmouth where he was located but a short time when he was appointed as police judge and has since filled that position most acceptably for the past twenty years.

Judge Graves has three grown children, Harry Graves, of the Nebraska State Journal at Lincoln, Mrs. Mike Dereig and Mrs. Harry D. Royal, all of Lincoln. Judge Graves is the last of his immediate family of twelve children, all of whom lived to a ripe age. The mother at the time of her death was 99 years of age and the father 77.

The many friends over Cass county will join in wishing the genial judge many happy anniversaries.

and Mrs. Leslie Wiles, Mrs. George Domingo, Mrs. Errett Wiles, Mrs. Emil Smith and Frank Wiles.

Mrs. Thomas Stacey entertained at a luncheon, Tuesday, when her guests were Mrs. Howard Philpot, Mrs. Don Philpot, Mrs. Joe John, Mrs. Arthur Berthold and Mrs. Guy Hopkins.

Mrs. Ben Olive and her family enjoyed their Thanksgiving dinner at the home of her sister, Miss Evelyn Wolph, near Nehawka. Her sons, George and David, were at home for the Thanksgiving vacation from the State University, and her daughter, Miss Gertrude, from Doane.

Ruth Ann Hinds, who is attending the State University, returned home Wednesday, to spend her Thanksgiving vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hinds.

Vern Malshead, music instructor, has moved his family into the second floor apartment at the Lenker apartments. Since the beginning of school, last fall he has been unable to secure a home in Weeping Water, and his family have been living in Avoca.
