HITLER'S PRAISE UNWANTED,

PARLIAMENT DECIDES LONDON (U.P.) - Adolph Hitler's Parliament has unaccountably been included in the revised official guide to Parliament. A parliamentary source said all 9,000 copies will be withdrawn and blank paper pasted over the quotation, which appears in the preface. Scores of copies already have been sold, he said.

The quotation, taken from an abridged edition of "Mein Kampf," said:

"When Barry's Houses of Parliament sprang, as it were, from the waters of the Thames, he drew from the history of the British world empire inspiration for the ornamentation for 1.200 niches, brackets and pillars of his magnificient edifice. Thus with their sculptures and paintings, the Houses of Lords and Commons became the temple of the nation's glory.'
