The Plattsmouth Journal

- ESETABLISHED IN 1881 -

Published semi-weekly, Mondays and Thursdays, at 409-413 Main Street, Plattsmouth, Cass County, Nebraska, RONALD R. FURSE Publisher FRANK H. SMITH Editor HAROLD TUCKER . . Advertising Manager

O. C. Osterholm, Plant Superintendent Harry Wilcoxen, Manager Job Department Helen E. Heinrich, News Editor Helen Mrasek, News and Circulation

SUBSCRIPTION RATE: $3.50 per year in Cass and adjoining counties, $4.00 per year elsewhere, in advance, by mail outside the city of Plattsmouth. By carrier in Plattsmouth, 15 cents for two weeks.

Entered at the Postoffice at Plattsmouth, with the Act of Congress of March

EDITORIALS

SAYS WORRIES HAVE TOO MANY OPINIONS

Having too many opinions about things can give you a headache, raise your blood pressure and keep you awake nights. That's the conclusion drawn by Leonard M. Leonard in the January Journal of Liv-

Ninety per cent of the things that bother us are usually difficulties that we develop in our minds and are not borne out by facts. declares Mr. Leonard. Most of us tend to take simple happenings and complicate them with our opinions-and that's when worry and trouble start.

Should the boss forget to sav good morning, we begin to worry about it and before we know it, we're convinced we're about to be fired. The actual fact may be that the boss had a dig deal on and just didn't notice us. Even on more serious occasions, we often disturb ourselves needlessly. Going to the hospital for an operation is a fact. When we add our opinions—such as advance fears of complications, pain and probable outcome — we are putting our-selves in a turmoil without actually havnig a basis for our opinions.

There are no realities which are not colored by our opinions, Mr. Leonard points out. Things are made good or bad, better A. Bates, veteran editor and commander SENATOR DOWNEY or worse, by what we think of them. Envy, for example, is an opinion that someone else is better off than we are, or has what we deserve. But unless we have the facts, we are wasting perfectly good emotions. It's possible to envy the wife of a "perfect" of the Grand Army post of this city, was named a member of the Cass County Sheridan Downey, sometimes called "The Pacific Gas and Electroi" Senator from California, has been quite acuve recently re his own worses over re-election. Adam Meisinger of Cedar to However, he took time out full companies ever conducted to the most succession. or worse, by what we think of them. Envy, great success who is slowly going mad. Everyone's life is a private affair. The sheerest nonsense is an envious opinion about the comparative happiness of others.

It is in our power to be less disturbed by the ordinary happenings of life, says the Journal of Living article. To make life easier and help smooth out the rough spots, stick to facts instead of forming so many opinions about them.

* * * LABOR AND FREE ENTERPRISE

The U.S. News recently published an interesting interview with Philip Murray, head of the CIO, in which he affirmed his opposition to socialism and said, in addition, that labor is a believer in the American free enterprise system.

That is a worthy attitude, and Mr. Murray is to be congratulated for holding it. However, there are some segments of American labor whose actions are hardly designed to keep free enterprise alive, and healthy, and fully capable of meeting the needs of the public. After socialism, the worst enemy free enterprise has is monopoly. Monopoly in industry has been effectively controlled by the anti-trust laws and other measures. But monopoly in labor has made enormous strides in recent years.

Labor in the coal mines is one of the prime examples of this trend. A union with hundreds of thousands of members is dominated by a single man. That man, through the institution of industry-wide bargaining and other monopolistic techniques, can, at his whim, shut down an enterprise upon which thousands of industries and millions of individual consumers depend. He can make the most unreasonable demands on the operators, on a "take it or leave it" basis. No industrial leader has or would be allowed to have this kind of power. But a labor leader, with a labor monopoly in a vital field. still has it.

A labor monopoly or an industrial monopoly is equally dangerous to the welfare of the country-and equally dangerous to the perpetuation of free enterprise. Ultimately, the country and Congress will learn that the only solution is to make labor subject to the same kind of antitrust laws that govern business.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

TEN YEARS AGO

Fred P. Busch, was named to presidency of Business Mens Ad Club with C. C. Wescott, vice president and W. H. Puls treasurer. . . . The farm home of Emmett Rice. southeast of Murray was robbed while owners were absent. . . . Basketball quintet of P.H.S. 1939 was composed of Robert Hayes, Ronald Rebal, Warren Reed, Donald Wall and John Tidball, marking an association of playing together from their Seventh grade days for these five boys.

Furse's Fresh Flashes

For us there's about twenty years left yet between tired and retired.

People never miss money they don't see or handle. That's why husbands and small taxpayers are so unconcerned.

Just because he was nice yesterday, women and dogs expect a man to be nice everyday.

Flipper Fanny, our dainty little contour twister, tells us that she intends to just throw her self away-but, she added, "I expect to take pretty careful aim."

There's no such thing as an idle rumor -they're always busy.

A local little girl tells us that her mother is her nearest relative and her father is the closest.

You can't get a divorce from your husband because he has flat feet, unless, of course, his feet visit the wrong flat.

After ordering a roast beef sandwich at a local restaurant the other day, the waitress inquired whether he would eat it there or take it with him. He replied that he hoped to do both.

Saw a lost ad the other day that read "Will the gentleman who picked up the fur coat on Route 75 last night please return the blonde that was in it. No questions asked."

gram dedicated to him by the children of St. John's parochial school and their instructors the Ursaline sisters. . . . Dr. A. V. Hunter D.D., former pastor here, visited the city in the interests of Weslevan University, serving in the capacity of field secretary. . . . January 12 marked the 51st anniversary of the Blizzard of 1888 which resulted in several deaths and losses | window for the American people. to stock and property through the Dakotas, Nebraska and parts of Iowa.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Miss Ruth Lindsay, supervisor of music torical Treasures, has been askin the public schools returned from a visit | ed to help in the care and distriat Lodi, Wisconsin, her home. . . . Col. M. bution of gifts. of the Grand Army post of this city, was PERSEVERES ary 5th. . . . Adam Meisinger of Cedar tion. However, he took time out Creek was given a surprise party on Janu- the other day to do some lobby- in the territory. ary 12th on the anniversary of his 60th ing which won't help his elecbirthday.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1948, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) DREW PEARSON SAYS:

REAL ESTATE LOBBY CON-COCTS NEW PROPAGANDA SCHEME; SEN. DOWNEY LOBBIES AMONG NEW CALIFORNIA COL-LEAGUES: WHITE HOUSE BOYS ENCOURAGE LATIN - AMERICAN DICTATORS.

WASHINGTON.—The Real Estate Lobby has concocted a new unique wrinkle in propaganda—letters to editors. Charles Stewart, press chief for the National As- farmland. However, he told the sociation of Real Estate Boards, conceived Senior Senator from his state this idea for free publicity and sent it out that he was barking up the in a confidential letter to local real estate

The letter urged: "'Letters to the Editor' columns of newspapers offer an opportunity to get before the public with facts that are important "They Would Rule the Valley" to public issues affecting real estate. . . . and sent it out as lobbying lit-This is being overlooked as a public rela- erature. The book carried no Naturally, it was Manna from

"In every city where rent control pre- cation. Downey, the author, is vails, there are persons put to unreason- not wealthy, and could not well able hardship by it. Some owners of small afford to finance a book with no rental properties . . . are required to ac- sales value. But he never did cept depression level rent on properties in explain who paid for this ex- awarded the Argentine order of which the tenant rents out a room or two pensive piece of propaganda Liberator by President Peron; for more than the entire maximum rent enforced by the Housing Expeditor. . . .

"Unfortunately persons aggrieved in this manner are known to board members. ed re the appointment of Dean Why not contact them and ask them to Acheson as Secretary of State. give the facts about their individual situ- The White House tried to call ations in their own words to editors of Senator Vandenberg of Michilocal newspapers?"

FRENCH FRIENDSHIP

In Strasbourg, France, is a small factory man Arthur Klein. New York which makes stained-glass windows for Demcorat, has drafted a resoluchurches. It is run by Tristan Ruhlmann, a 24-year-old Frenchman who spent most reports that Robert Stripling, of the war fighting in the resistance move-

After the war he started his stained- from committee files to write his glass-window factory and, a few weeks memoirs. Having plucked the ago, heard over the radio the story of how Chambers films out of a pump-Frenchmen were contributing gifts to the kin, Klein figures it would be Merci Train to thank the American people just as easy for Stripling to pluck for the Friendship Train.

Whereupon M. Ruhlmann, feeling that THE DICTATORS he had something uniquely French to offer, designed and manufactured a special still talking about the way the stained-glass window for the American Mayor of New Orleans, charmpeople. In the center of the window is ing young De Lesseps Morrison, a father showing a map of the United States to his son, while around the borders of the window are the coats-or-arms of . . Rt. Rev. Msgr. Geo. Agius, was honthe Alsatian Cities contributing to the friendly attitude" toward Presifriendship with Dictator Peron. | braska is devoted chiefly to cat- | years it takes to finish one's formal | child than for another. ored on his birthday anniversary with pro- Thank-You Train.

THE $64 QUESTION

Because so many French Churches had their windows destroyed, M. Ruhlmann's factory has more orders than it can fill, but he took time to make this Note-So many precious historical gifts have been put aboard the Merci Train that the Smithsonian Institution, custo- motion of Household Institute dian of the Government's His- waterless aluminum cookware tion changes.

Downey followed this up by ed. taking the two new congresssmall farmers. Congressman White happens to own 6,000 acres of California wrong tree. Congressman Mc-Kinnon feels likewise. Sheridan is a persevering gentlemen, however. Last year he published a mysterious and expensively bound book called identification as to its publisher or as to who paid for its publiliterature.

MERRY-GO-ROUND It wasn't Truman's fault that the republicans weren't consultgan but couldn't locate him. He was in New York at the beside of his sick wife. . . . Congresstion asking an investigation of shrewd prober for the Un-American Activities Committee, removed confidential material papers out of committee files.

ENCOURAGING

Latin-American diplomats are called at the White House several weeks ago and came out to Truman expressed a "very dent Peron of Argentina.

Sales Promotion of Waterless

A record-breaking sales prowhich has been in progress the past 27 weeks at the Plattsmouth Hinky-Dinky store will end Saturday (Jan. 8), it was announced today by Manager Richard W. Black.

ful campaigns ever conducted

By actual count, 55,680 utensils or approximately 15 rail-Downey, a likable and conviv- road carloads were purchased ial Senator, never has bothered for the sale. There were 15 items too much about his own Cali- in the line, and the two most fornia colleagues in the House popular pieces were the one of Representatives. Scarcely had and one-half and the threetwo new Californians settled in quart sauce pans, which alone their congressional offices, how- accounted for 27,016 of the ever, but they had calls from sales. Although the promotion good old Sheridan about repeal- ends Saturday, arrangements ing the 160-acre limitation on will be made to obtain utensils water rights in central Cali- for customers who want to finish out sets they have start-

The aluminumware has been men-Cecil White of Fresno and offered on a card plan, which Clinton McKinnon of San Diego | provided that for each $5 spent out to lunch. He made no in a Hinky-Dinky store a cusbones about arguing that they tomer was entitled to buy a should vote to remove the 160- piece of cookware at a reduced acre restriction, placed on re- price. The prices ranged from clamation projects to help the $1.39 for a frying pan to $8.95 for a four-quart pressure cook-

> It was the first time that heavy waterless aluminum cookware of this quality had ever been offered on a plan of this kind in the area, and Mr. Newman said his company, is "Extremely gratified at the fine

This statement sizzled down the press cables to Latin America and was front-paged in every newspaper below the Rio Grande. Heaven to the very same military dictatorships President Truman wants to discourage.

What the newspapers didn't mention, however, was the fact that Mayor Morrison had been that Mrs. Morrison had been given an extravagant ruby and diamond ring by Senora Peron; and that their trip had ben carefully arranged by the Argentine dictator as part of his scheme to win over the Truman administration. Lurking in the background of this little plot was another gentleman from New Orleans. Andrew Jackson Higgins, the boatbuilder whom Senator Truman once championed. Higgins also took a free trip to Argentina and came back to urge closer relations with the dictator.

On top of this, Peron cleverly awarded the order of Liberator to Truman's bibulous, backslapping military aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan, for his "constant and efficient efforts in favor of close and friendly relations."

All of which leads to the conclusion that either brother Peron is a very wise guy or that the boys around the White House are awfully dumb. Net result in any event has been a lot of encouragement for Latin dictators.

Note-Actually, President Truinform the press that President | man did not encourage the Mayor of New Orleans regarding He was quite cagey.

response" on the part of con-"In our consistent advertising of the line in The Plattsmouth Journal we said saving amounted to 40 per cent," Mr. Newman said. "But many of our customers told us we were conservative in our claim and that savings were easily 50 per cent or even more.'

By the time the promotion ends Saturday, it is estimated that $140,000 worth of utensils will have been distributed. Without the card plan, these utensils would have sold for at least $196,000, so the savings to consumers have totaled a minimum of $56,000, Mr. Newman pointed out.

He said the company plans to offer this same plan again bout the middle of the year unless something unforseen happens to make heavy aluminum cookware unavailable.

UN-AMERICAN

No one believes that Harry Truagent in the U.S.A. because he talks about red herrings, nor does any one think Atty. Gen. Tom Clark is the Western representative of the Russian secret police just because he hasn't sent Wm. J. Foster to jail yet These busy men already have 25 hours work to do in every 24 and maybe they haven't given as much attention to the growing threat of Communism in this country as it deserves. It now seems probable however that public sentiment will compel them to give more of their already scarce time to what Americans are at last beginning to consider a very real danger, namely-Communist infiltration-on a huge scale-in our schools, and in our whole national fabric.

It is difficult for the ordinary citizen to comprehend why the President, and others in high office, are seemingly so opposed to the continuance of the House un-American activities committee. About the most outstanding reason thus far given the public is that members of this committee are "headline hunters."

This nation is facing the most sinister and the most treacherous enemy that even history has ever known. This enemy has already suborned, and made traitors of, many perfectly good American citizens. The U. A. C. has brought these | things to the hired man's family, refacts to the public's notice, and has sisting the impulse to demand them done much to awaken the people to back again when these children, more the realization that there exists a cancerous growth which must be de- | would succeed in making some instroyed if we wish to preserve our present system.

The very fact that left wing groups all over the country are clamoring for the abolition of this committee; the very fact that Renresentative Emanuel Cellar of New York is reportedly moving to blanket its "destructive tactics"-should be sufficient to arouse the suspicions of a dead man!

Already letters are reported to be pouring in to U. A. C. members, supporting their work. But if we are interested enough in our future to write, we had much better write our own representatives in Congress, and the President, and tell them what we want done. They are our arbiters while they are in office; and they alone can continue or discontinue

The sand hills region in Ne-

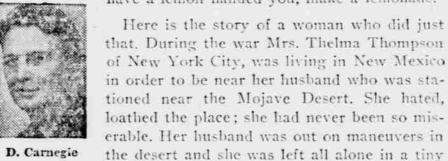

THE PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA, SEMI-WEEKLY JOURNAL Monday, January 17, 1949

N FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

THE MUD OR THE STARS?

NE day I dropped in at the University of Chicago and asked Chancellor Robert Maynard Hutchins how he kept from worrying. He replied, "I have always tried to follow a bit of advice given me by the late Julius Rosenwald, president of shack, The heat-125 degrees-was unbearable. There was not a soul to talk to but Mexicans and Indians and they couldn't speak English. The wind blew incessantly and there was sand, sand everywhere, even in the food. She was so wretched that she wrote her parents she wanted to come home. She said she would rather be in jail than where she was.

Sears, Roebuck and company: "When you have a lemon handed you, make a lemonade."

Her father replied to her letter with just two lines:

"Two men looked out from prison bars, One saw the mud, the other saw stars."

Those two lines changed her entire life. She was ashamed of how sorry she had been for herself and she made up her mind that she would look for the stars. So she made friends of the natives and their reactions amazed her. She showed an interest in their pottery and weaving and they gave her wonderful before when the sands of the desert had been an ocean floor What changed all this for her? Well, the desert and her surroundings hadn't changed. But her attitude had, and her life had become filled with exciting adventure.

pieces, favorite pieces that they refused to sell to tourists. She studied the fascinating flora around her, watched sunsets, hunted for seashells that had been left there millions of years

She was so excited that she wrote a book about it, called the "Bright Ramparts." She had looked out of her self-created Hades and found the stars.

One of the most remarkable things in this world is the power you have over your own mind!

SUN SETS CAR AFIRE

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. (U.E) FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.E) Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cochran were First it was a car, then it was returning home from a trip a truck that hit E. A. Swift, 67 was the carpet flooring in the path of the truck, which ran back seat of their car, set afire over his hands. He suffered only by sun rays shinning through minor cuts on his hands and a large water bottle on the face.

CHICKENS GO FOR RIDE

FITCHBURG. Mass. (U.P)_ When Omer Brisson, Jr., of cheese per capita than any Leomister arrived here for a other in the nation, the chambowling match, he discovered ber of commerce bragged. In the two of his father's chickens town's storage plant was 540,miles of highway had failed to 6,000 pounds a day in Mt. Angel. dislodge the birds from their

North Carolina is said to be the only state which is technic- comparable period the year beally out of debt.

PLENTY OF CHEESE

MT. ANGEL, Ore. (U.P.) - This town of less than 2,000 has more perched on the rear of his auto- 000 pounds of cheese, which is mobile. The jounces along five manufactured at the rate of

> Nebraska's birth rate dropped from 15,872 during the first half of 1948 to 14,650 for the

Successful Parenthood

NE thing that parents are apt to education, or grow to manhood or neglect in preparing their chil- womanhood, they would be more dren for adult life is to make them | willing to accept the limitations of understand that one's character con- | those years of spade work, otherwise has reached maturity. Yet, when many of us were children, we were distinctly given the notion that character was a substance grafted upon yourself by not asking for a second piece of pie (this was before the young had carrots and spinach to reckon with, so that virtues in eating were usually negative ones); by never telling a lie, no matter how much you might want to get out of something you had done, and by giving cast-off playmothered by necessity than yourself, genius contraption out of the parts of broken toys.

Then when you reached the magnificent age of 18, you believed that this garment of character would be completed and, clad in it, you would become a grownup and sit back and live comfortably on the moral profits of this carefully, though often resentfully, hoarded attribute.

And no one of the unprepared-for realities of living provided more disappointments to many of us than the discovery that this business of character building is a life-long task,

It seems to me (and for once we are hazarding a purely personal conjecture) that if children and young people knew from the beginning that | words, build character step by step you can't complete a human mind or and don't give up if the effort becharacter in the same number of tween steps seems greater for one tinues to be molded long after one known as experience of living. Of course we aren't talking about self-confident youth. Since young persons of that type aren't afraid of tackling any problem they don't need the reassuring knowledge that plenty of outstanding men and women feel young and insecure and lacking in balance until long past thirty. But serious-minded, over-conscientious youngsters could certainly use this reassurance to good advantage. So begin early to present character growth to them, not as an awesome entity they must achieve early or never, but as a gentle, daily divi-fount of universal knowledge. You gain it by doing your best, no matter how unspectacular that best may be. And the surest way to achieve a rich character, which will not deteriorate into querulous or unlovely old age, is to be willing to work at it all the days of your life.

dend, you might call it, from the

But while we've been stressing the fact that character development ought never to end, we do not mean to imply that it can be postponed. On the contrary, it begins in the cradle. So see that a baby's smiles and pleasant ways get him as much attention as his kicks and screams. From his earliest efforts to be friendly, see that he meets friendliness in return. When he first begins to have reasons for doing things listen to them, though you may have to point