Nebraska in Increase in Bond Purchase

Nebraska counties reversed a November downward trend in bond purchases with a thumping $1,876,000 increase in December purchases. Mr. Walter H. Smith, Chairman of the Cass County Savings Bonds Committee, announced today.

"With 65 of Nebraska's 93 counties increasing purchases all the way from 5% to 97%," he said, "our fear that blizzards would hurt purchases were entirely dispelled."

Mr. Leland R. Hall, State Director of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division at Omaha, expressed gratification at the December showing. "This increase is an indication that lower farm prices have not operated to stop bond buying," he said. "We are now assured of a satisfactory rank in national sales for 1948."
