

By REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
The Standards of the Kingdom.
Lesson for February 27: Matthew 5:1-12; 7:24-27.
Memory Selection: Matthew
6:33.

In the Sermon on the Mount Jesus lays down the laws of the Kingdom of God that he had come to establish in the world. It is a Kingdom of love in men's hearts. It knows no chance. It crosses all the barriers of race and nation.

These laws call for the highest morality ever demanded of men. A number of them found in the first part of the sermon have been called the Beatitudes because of their promise of blessedness. The joy of him who meets the condition of a beatitude originates in his heart. It is not dependent upon good fortune. An American poet writes that the glory of our lives below dwells for evermore in what we are. Blessedness also comes from what we are.

In the laws of the kingdom we find that the richest blessings of the Christian depend upon his feeling toward others. Only by the generosity of his thought toward others does he and can he meet the demands that Jesus lays upon him.

Last in our lesson we find that the man who follows his Lord's standards builds his house upon a rock that will stand firm through all the storms that beat upon it, while he who builds on the sand will suffer total loss. Certainly, the first builds for permanence and his house does not fall in the day of testing because it is founded on a rock.

Let us build our house on the rock of our faith in Christ Jesus and we shall live happily in the life that now is and we shall put our shining garments on to dwell with Jesus in blessedness for ever.

At a church meeting an old lady made the following profession: "Jesus saved me from a life of ease, luxury, and selfishness, and it took as much grace and love to save me from my easy chair as it did to save another from the gutter."

What many people desire in religion is the "easy chair" type.
Christianity is not meant to be such. In fact a true Christian faith must express itself in action.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Sixth Street & 2nd Avenue
"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 27, 1949.
The Golden Text is: "There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots (Isaiah 11:1). Other Bible citations include, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man" (Luke 2:52).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Jesus' spiritual origin and understanding enabled him to demonstrate the facts of being—so prove irrefutably how spiritual truth destroys material error, heals sickness, and overcomes death.

The divine conception of Jesus pointed to this truth and presented an illustration of creation" (page 315).
