

Special Training of the Twelve.
Lesson for March 20: Mark 6: 30-32; Luke 11:1-4, 9-13.
Memory Selection: Luke 11:10.

That the Apostles were trained under the Great Teacher is enough to account for the success of the training. But note the method in which the Master trained the men. He sent them forth to learn by actual experience; he gave them practical demonstration in helping people, and he taught them how to pray.

After the 12th returned to him with joy, and at other times, Jesus withdrew with them apart for "heart to heart" talks with them, to prepare them for future and larger work.

On the particular occasion referred to, a great multitude came to Jesus, and he at once gave his attention to the needy. In the miracle of feeding five thousand men, besides women and children, a few loaves and a few fishes—were multiplied endlessly. Anything consecrated to the Master's use will be increased in a progression of grace. Let the believer of today be assured that what he gives to Jesus will be multiplied in serving men.

And Jesus taught the disciples how to pray. The model prayer he gave them is the substance of all men should pray for. Prayer is more than asking God for what one wants. It should be the entering into a covenant with God to do his will. "They will be done" can be truly prayed only by the man who gives himself to God's will. And commitment to the kingdom is essential to real prayer. As for our own needs, we are promised that when we ask we shall receive, if the object for which we ask is in harmony with the will of the Great Giver.

The story of the life of a great person usually closes with a brief reference to that person's death. It is not so with the story of Christ. The inspired writers of the Gospels devote about one-third of their entire space to the story of Jesus' suffering and death.

Not the Sermon on the Mount, but Calvary is the heart of Christianity. That is what makes Lentenide so important. In this hallowed season we meditate on the meaning of the suffering and death of our Savior. May we all take time to review the complete account of our Lord's suffering and death in the Four Gospels, ponder the meaning, and apply to ourselves this holy truth.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sixth Street & 2nd Avenue
"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 13, 1949.
The Golden Text is: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (Hebrews 11:1).

Other Bible citations include: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!" (Romans 11:33).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: 'The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.' Spirit, the synonym of Mind, Soul, or God, is the only real substance. The spiritual universe, including individual man, is a compound idea, reflecting the divine substance of Spirit" (page 468).

RADIOACTIVE TRACERS AND STEEL RESEARCH

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U.P.)—Details of what was said to be the largest industrial experiment ever conducted with radioactive tracers have been disclosed by a Cambridge research firm.
Arthur D. Little, Inc., reported that it used atomic energy by-products to learn whether one of two forms of sulphur in coal retains its chemical properties more than the other despite conversion into coke.
Sulphur content affects the quality of finished steel made with the coke.
The experiment was of industrial value, the firm said, by proving there is no advantage for steel-makers in using coal of either a low pyritic or low organic sulphur content in an effort to improve the quality of their product.
