Birthday Party Held Tuesday

Tuesday, July 26th was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Lester Gansemer of Murray and daughter, Mrs. LeVon Speck of this city, the event being observed by a most delightful picnic birthday supper at Garfield Park in this city.

The members of the group had brought well filled baskets of food that furnished the basis for the delicious fried chicken repast with all the trimmings. The time was spent in visiting and enjoying the pleasant surroundings of the park until the early evening.

Those to enjoy the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gansemer, Shirley and Howard, Mr. and Mrs. John Speck, Misses Patricia and Barbara Gansemer, Robert Krejci, Mrs. Bessie

Bourne, Mrs. Anna Gansemer, Mrs. Lena Hild and Mrs. John Aschenbrenner and son, John Joseph.

Attend Pre-Nuptial Breakfast Party

Mrs. Ernest Giles and daughter, Mrs. Richard Schade and Ronelle, were at Nehawka Wednesday where they attended a breakfast at the home of Mrs. Marion Tucker honoring Miss Imogene Pollard, whose marriage to Mr. Clayton Bruce will take place August 7th at Lincoln, the services to be held at the Grace Methodist church. Miss Pollard has been engaged as secretary to Senator Hugh Butler of Nebraska at Washington, D. C. for the past few years.

Isaak-Raines Wedding at Kulm, S. D.

A pretty wedding at the Kulm Seventh Day Adventist church Sunday evening, July 10, at 7:30 united in marriage Miss Sylvia Doreen Isaak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Isaak of Kulm, South Dakota, and Francis M. Raines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Raines of Weeping Water, Nebraska.

White tapers in candelabra combined with greens and baskets of tiger lilies adorned the altar. Elder G. Hochstetter of Ellendale performed the ceremony. The service also included an appropriate and fitting sermonette. Pianist Lloyd Kiesz, a friend of the bride, played the traditional wedding marches. Herbert Knopp, the soloist, sang two numbers, "Because" and "I Love You" and was accompanied at the piano by Lloyd Kiesz.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a white bridal satin gown. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a deep net yoke, bertha collar and covered buttons down the back. The full skirt was cut en-train and the sleeves were long and tapered. The gown was made by the bride's mother. The bridal veil of fingertip length fell softly over her shoulders from a becomingly styled head piece. The bride carried an orchid on a white Bible.

The maid-of-honor was Mrs. Wm. Rollins of Davin, Sask., Canada, cousin of the bride. She wore a yellow satin floor-length gown, identically styled to the bride's gown and wore a corsage of yellow roses interspersed with lavender carnations.

Bridesmaids, Darlene Isaak of Ashley and Ruth Kainer of Roscoe, S. D., both cousins of the bride, wore gowns of lavender taffeta floor-length, also identically fashioned to the bridal gown. Each wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The groom wore a light blue gabardine suit. His attendants were Kenneth Isaak of Aberdeen, cousin of the bride; Wm. Rollins of Davin, Sask., Canada, and Earl Brenneise of Greenway, S. D., also a cousin of the bride. All wore white carnation boutonnières.

Marie Kainer, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and strewed rose petals along the bridal aisle. She was dressed in lavender taffeta. The page boy, Billy Raines, nephew of the groom, dressed in a white suit, carried the Bible on a white satin pillow.

Mrs. Isaak, mother of the bride, wore a white silk dress with white accessories. The mother of the groom wore a silk flowered dress of green. Both wore corsages of white roses.

Miss Bernice Dais, cousin of the bride, attired in a yellow chiffon gown floor-length, was in charge of the guest book. Miss Luella Kungle wore a yellow floor-length gown, and Miss Violet Knopp wore an American beauty floor-length gown. They were in charge of the gift table.

About 325 guests attended the reception in the auditorium at Kulm, immediately following the ceremony, where a delicious lunch was served. Garden
