

Weeping Water

(Opal E. Wallick)

Charles Coakley, who has been attending the State Patrol Camp at Ashland, returned here Wednesday after completing the course provided for applicants for state patrol work. Thirty-three completed the course successfully. Mr. Coakley began his work at North Platte October 17th. Preceding Mr. Coakley's return, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith has visited at Ashland on Sunday and learned there was to be a television show over WOW with the camp personnel and trainees taking part. Upon their return here the Smiths spent Sunday evening as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Nielsen and saw the show there. It gave the various stages and phases of the camp life and training.

Tuesday evening, September 11, a public showing of the movie "Now I See" was presented at the Congregational church. Rev. Harry J. Hart extended the use of the projector and showed the film which was a story of Christian Stewardship, depicting the life of a typical business man who becomes aware of what the church really means to him. TAVERN MEN TRAVEL, TOO

When tavern men travel for vacation or business they invariably drop in on other tavern keepers in an attempt to learn newer and better methods. This practice is encouraged because it tends to improve tavern operations in the public interest. In addition, the Nebraska Division, U. S. Brewers Foundation maintains a trained man who visits all the taverns in the state, observing better practices and relaying them where needed. Thus, the state's general level of tavern operation is being steadily improved and the public interest better served.

Leigh, Addison Richards and Frank Reicher starred in the production.

Mrs. George Domingo returned from Council Bluffs and Underwood, Iowa, where she had visited with her sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Ogan and her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lowe.

Last Friday Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott attended the Secretary-Treasurer meeting of the Federal Land Bank Association in Omaha. The wives of the group were entertained at a luncheon at the Athletic Club. In the evening a dinner was attended at the Hotel Paxton followed by a dance.

Mrs. George Corley was hostess to the Thursday afternoon Bridge club last Thursday. Mrs. Gus Nelson held high score for the afternoon.

Mrs. N. C. Nielson and Mrs. Eli Parker who have recently moved to Nebraska City, were in town Friday attending to their rental property on Eldora avenue. Mrs. Nielsen and Mrs. Parker are located at 218 Central Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Christensen have commenced moving operations from their former farm home to their town residence.

Wayne Cherry arrived Monday evening to spend some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Cherry.

J. S. K. Wipf is painting the outside of the Shannon-Dudley property.

Mrs. E. E. Day left Monday for Lincoln where she will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Seward Day on Tuesday to Boise, Idaho. Mrs. Day plans to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Mose Card of that city for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nutter were here this week end coming Friday evening. They went to Beatrice Saturday and on to the Nebraska-Kansas football game.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller (Orabelle Cole) arrived Tuesday from Waterford, Calif. They came to attend the wedding of their niece, Miss Shirley Hutchinson to Mr. Linville Prall.

Mrs. R. L. Hoback, Mrs. Gordon Henger and Mrs. John Heebner attended the Helping Hand Aid Society Thursday afternoon out in the Sunny Hill district. Mrs. Louis Allgayer was hostess. During the business meeting it was voted to give to the Polio Fund and the U.S.O. A bazaar was held and the sales totaled $10.00. These ladies sew and send boxes to the Children's Home in Council Bluffs and to an Omaha institution.

Mrs. Gerald Wright of Denver and Mrs. James Jabot and tiny daughter of Arzaca, a suburb of Denver, are expected to arrive next Thursday to visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heebner, for about ten days.

Mrs. George Domingo and Mrs. Joe Bender were Lincoln visitors Friday. Thursday evening many people were interested and privileged to see the total eclipse of the moon. Although quite cloudy, at intervals one could watch the progress which because of the cloudiness was even more interesting. According to the Weatherman, E. F. Stapowich, this is what could be called "Moon Week." Since we were privileged to see not only one, but three. First the Harvest moon then the Hunter's moon and the Eclipse moon.

Miss Esther and Mrs. C. E. Tefft drove to Avoca last Friday afternoon. On Friday afternoon Weeping Water invaded the football territory of Friend. Accompanying the Indians were a good many students and fans, as well as their loyal pep and cheering section. The pep girls have new uniforms which are quite becoming as well as being serviceable. The skirts cut circular are white and extremely flared. They wear white blouses and over them an all wool red and white coat sweater. Members of the Pep club have red corduroy skirts, white blouses and red skull caps.

Members of the Weeping Water high school band are thrilled with the surety of receiving their new uniforms. Supt. R. C. Porter and L. A. Malstead were in conference Monday to decide upon the actual purchase. Measurements were taken Wednesday afternoon for each individual's uniform. If they arrive in time the members will take part in Band Day at Lincoln, October 22. (Since this was written it has been determined that the uniforms will not be available by the time of the Band Meet). It will indeed be a happy day when the band is uniformed and presents its members in a public concert. Mainie Wright is the majorette leader this year and the baton twirlers are Enid Morris, Monda Friesel, Jo Ann Meyer and Mary Murphy.

The date has been set for the coming grade school opera "Cinderella's Slipper" for October 20th. Tickets are 50c. A preview will be given for the school students and student rates will be given at that performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morris spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morris and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wallick. Mr. Morris, who is in his Senior year at the University majoring in speech and debate has been given the honor of organizing and is instructor of a teachers high school debate class. This is the first time this feature has been offered to prospective teachers in high school. A series of Public Relations debates are scheduled on questions of interest to Lincoln and community are being sponsored by the Delta Sigma Rho, of which Mr. Morris is a member.

Mrs. George Ellis was hostess to the Past Noble Grand Club Wednesday evening. About ten members were present. A scrap book which will be taken to the Grand Assembly was the work for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Day went to Osceola Tuesday to attend the funeral services of Judge Leon Merrick's mother, Mrs. Fred Merrick, of Ponca.

Several University students were home from their various activities over the week end: Colletta Meyer, Ruth Ann Hinds, Caroline Kunkel, Pauline Rough, David Olive, Wendell Cole and Robert Tefft. Expected this week end are Barbara Keplinger and Doris Lauritzen.

Dean Cherry left Saturday for San Diego, where he goes into a Navy radio school. Rudy Stratton left by plane Monday for Dan Diego, he will enter the base hospital.

Don Gray, Weeping Water's fifth Navy son, arrived Sunday in Omaha. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gray, went to Omaha to meet him at the bus depot.

About eight young people with Mr. and Mrs. John Bender, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norris and Mrs. John Pryor, who is one of the sponsors of the Pilgrim Fellowship group, attended a meeting for sponsors, held at First Plymouth Church in Lincoln last Sunday. Rev. Pryor was unable to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Ray Norris, Past District President of Woman's Club, attended the District meeting last Thursday at Falls City. She gave a report as District Chairman on "Citizenship." At the close of the meeting all Past Presidents were called to the platform and while "Only a Rose" was sung, each was presented with a single red rose. About 175 were in attendance at this most successful convention meet. Mrs. Morris attended the convention at Elmwood as District Chairman of the election committee on October 17th.

Sunday evening in honor of John Marquardt's birthday, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Malstead attended a party at the Marquardt home. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claire Wulber and Mr. and Mrs. Henry McKelvie, who are visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Marquardt, for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gray were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Puls at Plattsmouth Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Richards Castle of Laurel, is visiting here with her aunt, Mrs. C. E. Pool and other relatives. While here Mrs. Castle has been attending to her farm interests at Bennett and Palmyra.

Mrs. Marjorie Rist of Tecumseh was a guest speaker at the first meeting of P.E.O. Chapter, B.T., Friday, Oct. 14th, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Corley. Mrs. Rist gave the convention reports. A surprise program under the direction of Mrs. Lenore Day took the interesting form of presenting Mrs. Raymond Kepner of Osceola and her unique and fascinating button collection.

Mrs. George Inness, Mrs. J. Byers, Mrs. Phil Campbell and Mrs. Leon Merrick also of Osceola, were guests of Chapter B.T. Next meeting will be at Mrs. C. E. Tefft's, with Miss Esther Tefft assisting.

At the Congregational church Tuesday evening many young people and parents of the churches in and around Weeping Water were in attendance at the movie shown by Rev. Harry Hart of the Methodist church. "Now I See" was presented, a story of Christian Stewardship and well worth the time and effort to see. It was indeed gratifying to see so many young people there, some with and some without their parents. Those who found it impossible to be present missed a very fine opportunity to see how the Christian spirit operates in a small community.

Tuesday afternoon the Methodist Ladies Society of Christian Service met at the church for their monthly meeting. The lesson for the day was on "Why Home Missions" and Mrs. Ed Sperry took charge. Devotions were read and carried out the theme of Wisdom is Priceless. Mrs. Smith read quotations from several portions of the Bible which referred to that subject. During the business session it was voted to give $5 to the Polio Fund and Mrs. Workman was appointed to chairmanship to begin redecorating and remodeling the rest room.

Mrs. Lenker gave a talk on Foreign Missions, and Mrs. Harry Hart and Miss Maude Moulton gave an account of the District meeting held at Nebraska City. Hostesses for the day were: Mrs. Glen Henger, Mrs. Lawrence Eldenmiller, Mrs. Phillip Miller, Mrs. Oscar Uffelmann, Mrs. W. D. Lenker, Mrs. Vincent Rehmeier, Miss Lina Linbeck, Mrs. Clarence Schmadeker. John Sterling of Wahoo, was home over the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Alton Sterling. John is employed with the Gas line company there.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roberts entertained Thursday evening in honor of Mr. Frank Domingo's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Malstead moved to their new location on Randolph street Saturday.

Charles T. Wallick, Navy son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. V. Wallick, writes home that he is enrolled in the Yoeman School (Y N) at San Diego 33, instead of going to sea as he hoped.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fahnstock of Laurel were Tuesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norris. They had been attending the State Bankers' Association in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Maseman of Avoca, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wolph of Nehawka and Mr. and Mrs. John Norris called at the Ray Norris home while the Fahnstocks were there.

The Garden Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knaup Friday evening. After the usual business meeting, Mrs. Edith Wilkinson presented Louis Broomfield's book "Malabar Farms" in review. Mrs. Wilkinson presented it in a most interesting and entertaining fashion, her ready wit was evidenced in her re-telling incidents, that, with the most of us, fall flat when we try repeating. Mrs. Sarah Spohn gave a quiz on World Affairs and held a contest on Halloween puzzlers. A triple tie occurred with Mrs. Wolcott, Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Hanlan answered the most correctly. Mrs. Wilkinson declined by saying that Mrs. Hanlan had helped her with two of the answers—so a draw between Mrs. Wolcott and Mrs. Hanlan awarded the latter with a prize. At the close of the meeting lovely refreshments were served of sandwiches, ice cream with fresh black raspberries and coffee. Nineteen members and three children were present. (It is interesting to note the Omaha World-Herald carried an interview with Bromfield concerning this same topic).

Mrs. B. A. Olive and son, Benjie, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Welch and Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. George Sheldon, Miss Evelyn Wolph and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norris and family were all Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norris.

Tuesday evening seemed to be everybody's night out. In some cases it turned out that one had to choose the one that had come first, so it was with us when Marion Stone called a meeting of the Boy Scout Executive Board to meet with Mr. Kenneth Henry, who is district Field man for this area and who was attending an earlier meeting at Louisville. On his return to Lincoln he was to stop here for consultation with the scouting executives, Bob Gray, Marion Stone, Bob Schumaker, Tom Stacey and Cub Scout Masters Harlan Gibson and George Wiles.

Matthew R. Frampton of Omaha was in Weeping Water on Wednesday, repairing the Congregational Church pipe organ. While here he also inspected the pipe organ at the Methodist church. He expects to return on Monday to make further repairs and inspection of both places.

The Nebraska State Bankers Convention that met in Lincoln had no Weeping Water representatives this year.

Mogens Johnson was taken to the hospital suffering from a recurrence of an old ailment. Former Cass County Judge and Mrs. Paul Fauquet were in attendance at the Cass County Teachers meeting on Tuesday evening of this week.
