Naomi Circle Holds Meeting

The Naomi Circle of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met at the Methodist church in the Memorial room on Thursday afternoon, October 20. Mrs. Lester Dalton gave the devotions and Mrs. J. H. Davis gave the lesson on "Hospitality in the Christian Home," taken from the book "Women of the Scriptures." The business meeting included the making of plans for the annual bazaar and plate lunch to be served on November 10. Miss Margaret Mapes and Mrs. J. H. Davis were hostesses and served a lunch at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. O. Lewis was a guest at the meeting. Members of the circle will meet at the church on Tuesday, November 1, to pack the "Pieces for Peace."

RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Doud, of south of Plattsmouth, have returned home from a very pleasant motor trip through Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, that included a trip through the Ozark sections of southern Missouri that are very beautiful at this season of the year. They enjoyed very much the trip and the varied country through which they passed including the rugged terrain of southern Missouri, the red earth country of Oklahoma and the pleasant farm lands of Kansas. Ralph states that the roads in that section are much better than in his home state.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Guthmann and wife of Boise, Idaho, who have been here as guests at the home of Miss Minnie Guthmann, have returned to their home in the west.

City Council Hears Road Problem

per month to $250 as per the agreement at the time he was hired.

An old question was brought up, that of the city being asked to do grading on private property, or to open or improve private driveways. It was the opinion of the council that this was not warranted under the law and city ordinances. It was stated by Mayor Rogers that private contractors charged $10 an hour for a bulldozer and one man, and those seeking to have their private driveways worked over, should secure this assistance as the city could not do this work.

The matter of the rock that was piled along North 10th street, many weeks ago, was brought up and it was stated that these would be hauled away by the contractors on the paving, and placed in places over the city where needed.

The council voted to authorize City Clerk Albert Olson to get in touch with the Henningsen Engineering Co., at Omaha to arrange for the equalization of paving districts, as many of the districts have never been equalized, and residents are desirous of paying their amounts and saving interest charges.

The city council received a communication from the state department of highways and irrigation, on work on project SF-19902 that the state had paid to the Northern Construction Co., the sum of $13,931.46, and billing the city for the sum of $5,572.58, or eighty per cent of one-half of the cost.

Catholic Ladies Have Social Time

Monday evening the members of St. John's Altar society and the St. John's Guild held a joint meeting at the St. John's hall to enjoy a Halloween party that was quite largely attended by the members.

The hall had been arranged in the Halloween settings of black and orange with witches, pumpkins and the late fall flowers, to make a very attractive setting for the delightful social time that followed.

The evening was spent in games and stunts that had been arranged by Mrs. Anna Pittman and Miss Lucille Meisinger and brought a great deal of merriment to the group.

The members of the group were served very delightful refreshments appropriate to the occasion.

The committee in charge comprised Miss Lucille Meisinger, Mrs. Joseph Bierl, Mrs. Josephine Ulrich, Mrs. W. E. White, Mrs. Marie Halth, Mrs. Anna Pittman and Mrs. Richard Otterstein.

Mrs. Zulemma Dye Returns from South

Mrs. Zulemma Dye, of the Cass drug store, has just returned home from a ten day visit in the deep south where she was visiting her mother, Mrs. H. C. Cardwell and sisters, Mrs. A. H. Sanger and Mrs. C. L. Walling.

Mrs. Dye reports the south as very attractive at this time with the crops excellent and the weather in full summer beauty. She made the trip from Nebraska to Jackson, Mississippi, with friends from Hooper, Nebraska, and had a very delightful time all of the way.

Col. and Mrs. J. E. Gray, of Bellevue, spent Saturday at the Henry Thiele home in this city and with friends at Nehawka.

Shower for Ina Mae Finnefrock

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brittain was the scene of a very lovely miscellaneous shower on Tuesday evening, given in honor of Miss Ina Mae Finnefrock, whose marriage to Mr. Richard Sell of this city, will take place Saturday.

Mrs. Brittain was assisted in entertaining by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Brittain.

The evening was spent in games and in which prizes were awarded to Alice Lanum, Mrs. Ruby Gochenour, Mrs. Bob Morris, Mrs. Betty Claus, Mrs. Geo. Stone.

The guest of honor received a large number of lovely gifts from the friends for her new home.

At the close of the evening a delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses.

Local Men Hunt Ducks in Iowa

Several of the local hunters have been engaged since the opening of the hunting season in seeking the elusive ducks and geese over in the lakes east of the Missouri river in Iowa.

The local hunters group comprised Clement Woster, Clyde Rosborough, Robert M. Walling, Fred Lugsch of this city and J. W. McKissick of Omaha.

The party are guests during the hunting of Jack Pappineau of Omaha at his lodge, "Blue Wing," located south of the Ponney Lakes. The host is known to many here as he is the owner of the "Westward Ho Jr.," at Omaha, one of the most popular entertainment places in that city.

Glenwood Visitor Here Wednesday

Wednesday evening Mrs. Louise Klein of Glenwood, was in the city to be a guest at the home of H. M. Soenichsen and family. The members of the family and their guest enjoyed the dinner and evening spent in visiting.

Mrs. Klein has been in that portion of Germany, the ancestral home of the Soenichsen family, and afforded some interesting facts as to the conditions in that section of the world and of relatives that she had met.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Marquett, with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Dealer, of Kansas City, Missouri, were here at the week end to visit J. C. Bridgewater, father of Mrs. Marquett and at the James M. Bridgewater home.

Present Television Sets Good for Years

Recently, many people asked: "Will television receivers become obsolete?" The answer is "No!"

"Will present sets be usable if additional channels are provided in the future?" The answer is "Yes!"

In support of these facts, Mr. Wayne Coy, Chairman of FCC, stated on March 23, 1949:

"There is no proposal to eliminate or discard the use of the present twelve television channels . . . of the VHF (very high frequency) band. Obviously, therefore, present television sets available on the market will get service from these channels continuously."

"I can assure everyone that wherever a television signal is available from a VHS present service transmitter, their set will render fine service for many years and can be converted to render fine service from them if ultra high frequencies (UHF) are utilized for the present system."

The new UHF stations and sets are still in the laboratory.

"I would have no hesitancy today in buying a television receiver. I would not wait until the FCC has decided what they were going to do about the UHF (ultra high frequency) channels because that may be some time off and more than that, the time required to develop transmitters and new receivers after such a decision is made means that a considerable length of time will have elapsed before I could get any service from a UHF station."

"Until the Commission makes a decision the radio manufacturing industry cannot know, with any degree of certainty, what kind of receivers to make for the future. We, at the Commission, cannot rush scientific development. Experimental operations are needed — of UHF sets and stations — and development of tubes which will give the power needed to get large area coverage in the UHF frequencies — and the development of real power for these frequencies is still in laboratories."

Present sets can be converted for new channels!!

"If an owner of a television set, turned to VHF frequencies wants service from the future new UHF stations badly enough, he can make his present receiver render service by the addition of a piece of equipment known as a converter."

"American television today is performing a valuable service. The system is now set up is potentially capable of serving many millions of Americans and most of the metropolitan areas."

Dorcas Circle Has Meeting

The Dorcas Circle of the Methodist church met on last Thursday with Mrs. R. B. Keller, Mrs. Vernon Arn assisting. Devotions were given by Mrs. E. C. Williams and the lesson was given by Mrs. Edgar Glaze.

Mrs. Harold Alkire won the special prize.

Mrs. H. B. Perry conducted the business meeting and final plans were made for the bazaar.

Mrs. R. C. Humiston explained the World Community project with program to be on November 4.

A quiz game was played in which Mrs. Alkire was the winner. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. H. A. Guthmann of Boise, Idaho, is in the city to visit with Miss Minnie Guthmann at the Guthmann home in this city and meeting the many old friends over the county.

Veteran Attorney Visits in City

Tuesday morning Attorney D. O. Dwyer of Weeping Water, was in the city to spend a few hours visiting with old friends and awaiting the return of Mrs. Dwyer, who was in Omaha on business.

Mr. Dwyer was at Omaha the latter part of the week, to attend the meeting of the Nebraska Bar Association of which he has been a member for more than fifty years. He was one of twenty of the veteran members of the Nebraska bar honored at the Omaha meeting for having been engaged in active practice for a half century.

Mr. Dwyer came here as a young man from Michigan in the late eighties, settling in Plattsmouth, during his study for admission to the bar through school for several terms, one of the schools being taught was at Union.

He was admitted to the bar at Plattsmouth on June 5, 1889, and shortly afterwards entered into practice of the law with H. Guy Livingstone, later killed in the Spanish-American War and the late Thomas Walling.

'The Mudlark' Heard By Large Number

Tuesday evening a large audience filled the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church to enjoy the initial number of a series of three dramatic readings that will be given by Beatrice Hoel Farrell, who for two seasons has entertained book lovers of the community.

The reviews are given under the auspices of the Federation of the church, and have proven outstanding hits. The program Tuesday was presided over by Mrs. T. I. Fries, who presented the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Farrell.

The story that was reviewed Tuesday was that of "The Mudlark" by Bonnett, a very fascinating historical presentation of the mid-Victorian days in England, many of the scenes being laid in the castle of Queen Victoria and her court.

Mrs. Farrell was costumed for the review and her gown was of that period, every detail of the fashion of that day carried out and with the wonderful rendition of the story by Mrs. Farrell was truly a fascinating tale that held the closest attention of her audience.

Attend Meeting Of the C. E. of A.

Mrs. F. I. Rea, state vice-regent of the Catholic Daughters of America of Nebraska, with Miss Helen Eiting, regent of Our Lady of Loretta court of the order, were in Omaha Wednesday where they attended a statewide meeting.

There were present at the sessions all of the state officers, also the regents of the local courts over the state.

The conference was addressed by Archbishop Gerald T. Bergen of Omaha, head of the Omaha see, who discussed many of the problems of the church of today, and the need of service from the individual members of the faith.

Raymond Lee Long On C. B. Program

Raymond Lee Long, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Long of this city, was a guest star on the KMA Country School program at Council Bluffs, on last Saturday and scored another very fine reception from the delighted auditors that filled the auditorium. Mr. Long accompanied Raymond Lee on the electric guitar for the evening.

Raymond is a very talented vocalist and has a fine stage presence and poise that makes his appearances outstanding much better than children of more mature years.

Raymond learns his numbers from memory, as he is a pupil in the kindergarten, and selects from records the songs that pleases him and by repeated playing acquires the words, very easily catching the melody and in a few trials is able to give the songs his clever way.

He is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Long of Elmwood.

MRS. WHITE ILL

Mrs. Thomas J. Walling is in Washington, D. C., where she was called to be with her daughter, Mrs. Glenn E. White, who was ill from an infection of the lungs, caused from a former operation on her nose. Mrs. Walling expects to undergo surgery in the early part of November and her mother will remain until this is done. Sgt. and Mrs. White reside at 243 Madison Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.
