Today's Hudson invades lower-price field with a great new car!

A. E. Barit, Hudson President and General Manager, Says:

After four years of intensive designing and engineering effort, Hudson has found a way to bring, at a new lower price within the reach of millions of people, a new car which provides important and definitely measurable motoring advantages not available elsewhere at any price!

You may like to know how all this came about.

Some time ago Hudson announced its "step-down" designed cars—cars that had then been in the development stage for a long time. Here were recessed floors in an all-welded, all steel, Monobilt body-and-frame—the first, and still the only basically new way to build motor cars that had been presented in many years—a new principle of design that created entirely new and higher standards of motor-car comfort and performance.

This was exciting news—such exciting news that ten million Americans rushed to see those cars in the first week they were on display!

They, and other millions later, saw cars that won the title "America's Most Beautiful" in public polls. But these millions of people saw more than low-built, streamlined beauty. They tried riding in the roomiest seats ever built into an American automobile. They experienced a smooth, steady, safe, hug-the-road way of going that was entirely new to motoring.

They drove New Hudsons and found them so lively, so alert, so ready-for-anything that they could scarcely believe their own senses.

"Step-down" design was and is plainly a major contribution to automotive progress. So great are its advantages that Hudson sales have shown a steady rise since its introduction and are today more than 30 per cent ahead of last year's record.

And "step-down" designed Hudsons are leaders in resale value in used-car markets coast to coast.

Here, in an agile New Hudson, is more room than in any other car at any price, except another Hudson.

The New Hudson Pacemaker has all the low-built beauty, all the long, free-flowing lines of authentic streamlining in a car of modest over-all size. It is built from the ground up to give you all the amazing advantages of "step-down" design in a car that costs you less to buy—and less for every mile you travel—a car with a new higher-compression Pacemaker Six engine with newly developed carburetion that makes it a miser with fuel.

Hard to believe?

Well, it's all actual fact! Hudson would not invade a lower-priced field with a "pop gun!" Here is a "block-buster"—an exciting new kind of automobile no one else in the industry is prepared to build today! And I confidently invite you to see it for the first time today—in the nearest Hudson showroom!
