Mrs. John Creamer Is Given Honors

Cass county friends of Mrs. John Creamer, the former Mabel Van Every, of Wabash, will be pleased to learn of the honors she received in October in her home church at Ogallala. The county paper contains her picture and a feature article.

The special occasion was a meeting of the W. S. C. S. group when she was presented with a life membership in recognition of her long and faithful service to the church. She is now promotion secretary of the society and is responsible for filing of district reports. Mrs. Creamer began teaching Sunday School in the early 1920's. For many years she was primary superintendent and she still depotes one Sunday a month for telling missionary stories there. She taught training classes for many years, and worked much in the Missionary society, and kept it from failing in former years. She caused a substantial gift to be left for that organization.

The present church superintendent said of her: "Of all the women in the church, Mrs. Creamer probably is the greatest source of inspiration to all the teachers in the Sunday school. She always has a word of encouragement".

She is also an Eastern Star member, a P. E. O. unit, past president, and served as president of Mother's Culture club. She has promoted a study of course in W. S. C. S. She was a Cass county teacher at one time.

Mrs. Fisher Dies in Omaha Sunday

The many friends over the county will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Carrie Adeline Fisher, wife of Egbert Fisher, 73, well known resident of Cass county.

Mrs. Fisher was born in Cleveland, Ohio, June 19, 1876, and has made her home in this county for a great many years.

The funeral services will be held on Tuesday afternoon, December 6th at 2:30 from the Hobson funeral home at Weeping Water. The burial will be at Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Reed of Murray were here Sunday as guests of Mrs. Philip Keil, Sr., Mrs. Reed being a sister of Mrs. Keil.

Local People at Omaha Banquet

Saturday, three Cass county couples were guests at the banquet at the Hotel Fontenelle, of radio station WOW, they being members of the party of mid-west farmers and their wives who were taken on a tour of the Pacific coast several weeks ago.

The radio station arranged the event, that was in the nature of a reunion of the group that had spent a most delightful time touring the points of interest from Washington to British Columbia, thence to California, viewing farms, fruit ranches, fisheries, as well as the leading industries of the coast country.

The members started the party at 10 a. m. and were surprised by a fine motion picture story of the trip that had been taken enroute and also the fine banquet that had been arranged.

The local people attending were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schafer of Nehawka, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Elson and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Wiles of this city.

Ethel Weber and Emma Walls, of Omaha, state VFW Auxiliary officers, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Sophia Woleve, district president, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gobelman and children, of Union, were here Saturday to look after business matters.

Funeral of C. J. Baumgart Saturday

The chapel of the Sattler funeral home at 4th and Avenue A was filled Saturday afternoon by the many friends of the late Caesar J. Baumgart, gathered to pay their last tributes to his memory. The death of Mr. Baumgart has brought a great regret among the friends that he has known for his lifetime.

The services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Taenzler, pastor of the First Christian church of Glenwood, who brought to the family a message of hope and comfort in their bereavement.

During the service Frank A. Cloldt gave two of the loved hymns, "Sometime We'll Understand" and "Abide With Me," with Mrs. H. F. Goos as the accompanist.

Burial was at Oak Hill cemetery with old friends and associates as the casket bearers: Harold Seay, Fred Forbes, Harry Porter, Chester Minnear, William Kraeger, Linford Dasher.

Funeral of Forrest M. Barkhurst at Union

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Baptist church at Union for Forrest M. Barkhurst, whose tragic death occurred at the farm home east of Union on Monday, where he was found at the dead from burns.

The services were conducted by Rev. D. H. McMillan, of Nebraska City, and quite largely attended by the old family friends.

Music for the services consisted of two of the old hymns given by D. Ray Frans with the accompaniment being played by Mrs. Frans.

Interment was at the East Union cemetery with old friends serving as the casket bearers: Henry Becker, Herman Comer, George Sittes, Reuben Foster, Roddy and Ira Clark.

The funeral was conducted by the Caldwell funeral home of Plattsmouth.

Mrs. Rex Young was visiting relatives in Wajihill, Nebraska, a few days last week. Mr. Young accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thiele met her in Omaha Wednesday evening and brought her on home.
