"EASY DOES IT"

By HELEN HALE

WHITE SPOTS ON MAHOGANY furniture can be removed by applying a thick coat of vaseline over the spots and letting stand for 48 hours before wiping off.

Remove old wax with liquid wax to remove watermarks on waxed finishes. Then apply a fresh coat of wax.

For other finishes, other than wax, remove watermarks by rubbing oil of peppermint on a damp cloth, then to the surface. Polish dry with a soft cloth.

If you have heat marks on a varnished finish, dampen with spirits of camphor. Let dry thoroughly, then polish.

When heat marks are on a lacquered wood finish, rub with a paste of powdered pumice and linseed oil, working with the grain of the wood. Polish when spot is removed.

Alcohol stains on wood should be wiped off as soon as the liquid is spilled. Rub with fingers on an oiled cloth. For neglected stains,

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Sweet Potatoes, Hawaiian (Serves 6)

3 boiled sweet potatoes, peeled

2/3 cup rich milk

2 tablespoons butter

1 tablespoon sugar

1/2 cup chopped walnuts

6 canned pineapple slices

Mash sweet potatoes and add milk, butter and sugar. Beat until fluffy; fold in walnuts. Fill well greased custard cups and top with drained and halved pineapple slices. Brush with melted butter and broil until light brown.

go over the spot with a circular motion, in lemon oil. Dip the cloth in powdered rottenstone and gently rub the powder into the stain. Wipe off with lemon oil, dry and polish. Repeat treatment, if necessary.

Grease spots should be rubbed with lard if they're on washable materials, then washed in rich soapsuds. On non-washable fabrics, sponge the spot with gasoline, away from a place where there's a danger of its flaming.
