Editor Plattsmouth Journal:

I saw in your last edition a picture of a Darling truck wrecking an electroliner and two new autos on your Main street. Now, why should that truck be allowed to unload freight in front of a place of business when it should have been in the alley? And another thing, why are the stores of Plattsmouth having their freight shipped by truck when you have two railroads serving your town, and so many men working for the railroads who do their buying from Plattsmouth merchants?

When you come to think about it, there are about 400 Burlington men in Plattsmouth besides the "Mop" men, and there are a large number of Union Pacific shop men and people working in the Union Pacific headquarters who do their buying from your Plattsmouth merchants.

Shouldn't the Plattsmouth merchants give their business to the railroads. If all the railroad people were taken from Plattsmouth, the merchants would see the difference.

How much do the trucking companies buy in your town and how much taxes do they pay? None at all, when you come to think about it.

The railroads can give just as good service as the truck companies and won't wear out your streets and wreck your property. Yours truly,

Railroad Employee

Road Program Of State Set At $15,000,000

F. H. Klietsch, state engineer, stated Monday that at least fifteen million dollars of state and federal money will be available for highway construction next year in Nebraska.

Of the total, he told the Nebraska Chapter of the American General Contractors Association, $1,867,180 has been obligated for improvements, and bids on an estimated $2,500,000 of work will be received late next month.

In all, the state plans to contract work for eight million to nine million dollars by July 1, and the balance during the last six months of the year, he said.

Mr. Klietsch said so long as the higher gas tax and the motor vehicle license fees—remain in effect, and Federal aid money is available, Nebraska can count on 15 million dollars a year for highway improvements.

The money is needed, he said for "a large-scale, all-out effort to build state highways." Increasing use of motor vehicles at higher speeds, the hauling of heavier loads, and highway deficiencies accumulated during the war have made it essential that Nebraska highways be attended to, he said.

He urged the contractors to "explain and justify the need for continuing the new revenue measures," to be submitted to popular vote next November.

Mr. Klietsch said a mile of road now costs twice as much as during the 16-year period 1926-41, when the state spent an annual average of $7,500,000 on highway construction. Therefore, the 15 million dollars now available is needed merely to keep pace with the past.

The gas tax has been raised only 50 per cent, from 4 to 6 cents a gallon, since the 1930's. Mr. Klietsch said, and "most people would call that a bargain."
