CORONATION

Regal processions have moved down the avenues of time. Kings have bowed their heads to receive the crown of the realm.

But never rode a king as this King rode . . . meek and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

Nor ever wore a king the crown this King wore . . . surely He hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows.

On one day men lined His path with palm branches, and spread their garments in the way. On another, they pierced His limbs with nails, and cast lots for His robe.

But today men see Him through eyes He opened, and worship Him with hearts He won.

Never lived a king as this King lives! Nor ever lived a people more blessed than those whose lives He rules!
