

Eighth Grade Promotional Exercises Held

Wednesday evening the students of the eighth grade of the city school system held their promotional exercises at the high school auditorium before a capacity house of relatives and friends.

The processional for the entry of the class was played by Jo Ann Egenberger, and to the strains of the march, the young people entered and took their places on the stage, where they were to complete one of the important parts in their school history.

Superintendent T. I. Frier, presided over the gathering and introduced the various speakers and participants in the program of the evening.

The invocation was offered by Dr. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The brass sextette of the eighth grade was presented, composed of Jon Schuetz, cornet; Harold Demaree, cornet; Bette Janecek, French horn; Shirley Duda, trombone; Patty Painter, baritone; Richard Glaze, tuba. The group gave a splendid presentation of selections from the music of Stephen Foster, showing a very fine musical appreciation in the manner that the selections were given.

History of the class was given by Patricia Brown, the speaker, detailing the work of the pupils since they first entered school. This was well prepared and given in a most pleasing manner by the young student.

Rev. E. C. Williams, pastor of the First Methodist church, the speaker of the evening, had as his subject, "Adventure Unlimited," in this address carrying to the young people a message of the opportunities that were theirs in the world of higher education in the high school that they were about to enter.

Mrs. Zephira Seward and Miss Alvina Zastrow of the faculty made the presentation of the class for their promotion, these ladies having been the instructors of the class through their eighth grade.

The certificates of promotion were given by Dr. O. C. Hudson, the president of the board of education, to the students of the class.
