Rice-Cordes Wedding Held Saturday

(By Mrs. Opal Wallick)
Baskets of white roses, snapdragons, delphiniums and ferns, huckleberry, and four seven-branched candelabra decorated the Southfield Methodist church for the marriage of Miss Edith Armita Rice, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rice of Weeping Water, to John Allen Cordes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cordes of Chicago. On Saturday evening at 7:30, May 6, Reverend Ross K. Sweny performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of 200 relatives and friends. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Muriel Birdwell.

William Schumacker sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" preceding the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white slipper satin, styled with a fitted bodice, and keyhole neckline outlined with seed pearls. The long sleeves tapered to points at the wrist, and miniature buttons completed the back. The skirt, French-pleated at the hips, ended in a long aisle-wide train. Her French illusion three-tiered veil was onto a white satin tiara and fell to finger-tip length. She carried a bouquet of white roses with white satin streamers.

Her maid-of-honor, Miss Rosemary Smith, wore a pale green marquisette gown and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow daisies with matching head band of daisies. The bridesmaids, Misses Dixie Lee Malley and Jean Jeffrey, wore light yellow marquisette dresses with white daisies in their hair and carried cascade bouquets of matching daisies. William Cordes, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Neil Rice of Lincoln and Clyde Rice of Omaha, brothers of the bride. They wore white tuxedos with white carnation boutonnières.

The bride's mother was dressed in rose pink with brown and white accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride and groom sat at the first piece of a four-tier wedding cake. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Ruth McKelton, Misses Marjorie Snyder and Dorothy Hedmark.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a beige suit with brown and white accessories. Her corsage was white roses.

The bride is a graduate of Weeping Water high school and Commercial Extension School of Commerce of Omaha, and is employed by United Air Lines. The groom is a graduate of Illinois Institute of Technology, and is employed by the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply Company in Chicago. They will make their home in Chicago.

Visiting Here From California

Mr. and Mrs. James Rebal, Jr., of Verdugo City, California, are enjoying a short visit in Omaha and Plattsmouth while in this city they were guests at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rebal, Sr., and with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rebal. They are visiting their daughter and family in Omaha, from where they will leave at the week end for the coast.

They report that "Rebals Incorporated," large super-market, is doing a great business at Verdugo City, having a fine location in the midst of some of the richest sections of the state. Here are located James, Edward, Raymond and Fred Rebal and their families. The store was established some two years ago, and is now one of the large business establishments of that section of the state.

Mr. Rebal reports that the brother, Edward, has just recently undergone a very severe operation, but is now improved and expects to be back on duty by June 1st.

Plattsmouth Lady Sides With "Grandma"

Mrs. Alice Woster, wife of Mayor Clem Woster, writing in the World-Herald, Sunday, replying to an article some three weeks ago from a Mrs. Tegmeier, gives her opinion as to work of the household in the days of Grandma and today. Mrs. Woster in her article takes the side of the grandmother of yesterday, regarding the work of the household and the care of the family as compared with today.

"Grandma's work was all hard labor, absolutely necessary to provide her family with food, shelter and clothing. A lot of my daily buzzing around is monkey business. Sometimes I pretend I think I'm abused just because it's so pleasant to have papa and the kiddies soothe me, and the neighbors say, "My, you must work hard, with all those little children. But I know all the time that I'm one of the world's lucky women—how lucky, I don't even appreciate."

"There are millions of women in many parts of the world today who work as hard as Grandma did, but the average middle-class American woman is a slave to housework, only if she makes a fetish of it."

Through the article is woven the story of daily life at the Woster home, comparing it with families in the past, when all things were to be carried out the hard way.

May Crowning to Mark Memorial Day
