

Miss Guthmann Meets Many Old Friends in West

In a recent interview with Miss Minnie Guthmann of Plattsmouth she tells of her trip and the many friends and former residents of Plattsmouth she met while there.

Her first stop was at the home of the Paul Lemkes at Oakland. They have a beautiful hillside home which they enjoy very much and where Miss Guthmann made her headquarters for her visit. While there many acquaintances and old friends from "the old home town" came to call. She saw the William Mrasek family; met Mrs. Russel Henry (the former Ellen Belle McDaniel), who is in charge of the drapery department of the "City of Paris" in San Francisco's business district. While in San Francisco Miss Guthmann was the guest of Miss Henrietta Martens, sister of Miss Amelia Martens of Plattsmouth. Here she met Rae and Betty Paterson at their home, finding Rae much improved in health. Herbert is living with his parents and studying to be an insurance broker. Ed and his wife are also in San Francisco. Ed is with the telephone company and had just returned from making an interesting experimental trip on the Southern Pacific train, installing telephone service from the trains to the homes in the city. He talked with his aunt, Mrs. Alice Dovey Haggart in Glendale from the train.

During her stay Miss Guthmann was out in the open country much of the time, the Paul Lemkes taking her on many drives and picnics at Santa Cruz. Paul is a partner in the Bay Area Delivery Company, delivering for the General Electric and many of the appliance businesses throughout the bay area. Miss Guthmann enjoyed San Francisco very much. The flower stalls were beautiful with their array of the first of the spring flowers. On street corners and everywhere were flowers, loads of flowers.

At Long Beach she visited with Mrs. Mattie Egenberger and her sister, Mayne Carmack Hooper, as well as Mrs. Egenberger's daughter, Mrs. Helen Egenberger Rogers and Dr. Rogers, who took her on many drives throughout the town. At San Diego she saw the Frank Mullens and the Lon Henrys who were busy and prospering. Miss Margaret Hallahan also lives in San Diego and Miss Guthmann enjoyed a visit with her.

She drove to Palm Springs, the famed resort town in the desert country, finding it a most beautiful place, with the mercury registering 100 degrees on the day she made the trip. En route the orchards in bloom made a lovely sight. Children were standing on the corners of the streets in Palm Springs and along the route of travel trying to sell lilacs to the passersby.

Another interesting city visited was Indio, California. Miss Guthmann spent a few days with Katie Walling and family in Los Angeles. Mary Margaret Walling is an X-ray technician for a group of doctors. Edmond and Leonard are employed at the North American Aviation Company's plant. A very interesting day was spent with Mrs. Tom Sullivan. (Hattie Fiehl, who has a private school called the Mrs. Sullivan's School. This is in a large private residence with two large school rooms and playground in the rear. Here are enrolled children from ages 3 to 14 and a general school course is taught as well as dancing and music. Eight members are on her staff, including a trained nurse. Most of the children here are from the movie and radio colony, and children whose parents board them in the school while they are living abroad but desire their children to be educated in the United States. Kathleen Walling took her on a trip through Los Angeles, where she saw Opal and Bob Wills.

One of the "musts" in Los Angeles is a visit to the Farmers Market, and the huge building projects sponsored by the Prudential Life Insurance Company, housing 65,000 people when completed. This is located near what is called "Miracle Mile." Another place of interest is Orlocks Project for Merchandising, a seven story building of merchandise projects, clothing and ready-to-wear) which is sold on a "cash and carry" basis not unlike our chain grocery stores.

While a guest of Mrs. Walling, Walter Gabriel and wife came to call. Mr. Gabriel is ticket agent with the Southern Pacific at Alhambra; he was formerly with the Consumers here. Also saw John Egenberger and wife. John is with Lockheed aviation plant as crane dispatcher. A visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reed at Glendale was very enjoyable.

Miss Guthmann, as a guest of the John Egenbergers, also visited Rehabil, Inc., at Verdugo City, where they operate one of the largest markets in the country. She also saw Loretta Clark McCourt, former resident of this city, who has now retired from work with the board of education. She was very well and enjoyed hearing of the folks back in Plattsmouth.

Bill and Frank Schlater, sons of Frank Schlater, former well-known Plattsmouth citizens, are at Compton, between Los Angeles and Long Beach and employed with a pipe company. Recently their company had shipped some big welding machines to Arabia, and they operate a very flourishing business in this line.

Mae Murphy shares an apartment with Mrs. Elster, widow of Dr. W. B. Elster, at Glendale. Art Bignell, who formerly worked here and lived on south Sixth street wanted to say "Hello to Main street." Friends of the Bignells will regret to learn that Mrs. Bignell is confined to her bed.

Barbara Paak McIntyre and husband entertained the Dr. Rogers and Miss Guthmann at a party. She is reminiscing on Plattsmouth, spoke of her aunt, Annie Button, who will be remembered by many here. She said Miss Button was living in a small apartment in Hastings, Nebraska, and was well and happy.

Mrs. C. E. Hartford lives at Riverside, and has gone into business for herself, having the ice cream and bakery concession at Moore's Market. She makes her home with her daughter, Elva Hartford Hartley and husband, Charles.

During the trip she spent two weeks with F. R. Guthmann, son of Henry Guthmann, at Tucson, Arizona. Mrs. Henry Guthmann of Boise, Idaho, was also visiting there. Frank is officer in the Valley National Bank in charge of federal housing. He stated the Valley National Bank ranks 27th in point of business of banks in the U. S.

From Tucson the party drove to Nogales, Mexico, a most interesting Mexican settlement with an altitude of 4,000 ft. The year around climate is ideal. A trip to Phoenix made possible the enjoyment of much beautiful and awe-inspiring country with its large cattle raising ranches where much of the meat for the Cudahy packing plants is raised. Phoenix is a very thriving, busy place, a city of fine homes and buildings.

Miss Guthmann, after recitation of the many places visited, remarked, "I had a wonderful trip, a delightful time, some fine visits with old friends, but it was good to get back home."
