

Marriage Will Not Stop Draft

A quick rush to the marriage license clerk after calls for draft physical examinations will not serve to evade drafting, Lt. Col. Frank O'Connell, assistant selective service director, said Tuesday.

"Local boards have been advised that those who rush to marry after the call is received can be inducted anyway," Col. O'Connell said he had been notified.

The new order stressed that the army is responsible for physical, mental, loyalty and moral standards. The local boards are responsible for determining dependency, marriage and other items of eligibility.

"Provisions limiting voluntary enlistments to men without dependents is not applicable to inductees," the order said.

The local boards are rapidly clearing up their records of men listed as "evaders," O'Connell said. He explained that in most cases it was not attempted evasion of the draft but negligence in reporting change of status.

Blanket Tax For Class One Schools

School districts in Cass county which operate an elementary school only will have a four-mill "Blanket Tax" levy this year in addition to the levy for general and special purposes. The levy, provided for by the 1949 legislature, was certified by County Superintendent Behrends to County Treasurer Ruth Patten who in turn certified the same to the board of commissioners today.

Under the Blanket Tax law, a levy to raise two-thirds of the amount expended by rural elementary schools during the last year must be imposed, provided the levy does not exceed four mills. Funds from this tax will be returned to the qualified school districts during the following year. One of the qualifications requires a district to have five or more enrolled in school for the first year of operation under this law. A school which contracts with another district will receive an amount that it needs to pay the instruction and transportation up to the amount collected from this levy, regardless of enrollment.

The total cost of operating the rural and elementary districts in Cass county for the past year was $169,723.09. The 1950 valuation of these districts is $27,091,263. The maximum levy under the law would not secure the two-thirds of the cost of operation for the last year, thus the four mill must be used.

Rotary Enjoys Mynard Dinner

Tuesday for the regular luncheon of the Rotary club the members with their wives and families, enjoyed a real outing with a trip to Mynard to enjoy the Community Club fried chicken dinner.

Each year the Mynard community picnic is the goal of the Rotary. Its members to enjoy a few hours with the neighbors and friends.

The ladies of the community had made a most wonderful dinner for the guests, there being nothing omitted from the program that might add to the pleasure of the large number that attended.

The Rotary held a short business session then turned the meeting over to partaking of the feast. It was an event that all will long remember for another year when they can again be guests of the good people of Mynard.

VISITS HER SISTER

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Meyer visited Mrs. Lemuel Sheard, sister of Mrs. Meyer Tuesday evening in Omaha. They found her very much improved. She does not have spinal meningitis as was first thought.

ABOVE THE HULLABALOO

By LYLE HULL

MAYBE the "party first, last and always" senator from Maryland, Millard Tydings, sincerely believes that the government has been purged of all "risks" and "subversives." And maybe he is right. He had better be! Today is not the time to tamper with the national security that the party's skirts may be kept clean.

And today is no time for retaining in office any of those responsible for motivating our disastrous policy in China and the far east. Maybe these men are all patriotic citizens, but there are patriotic citizens in the insane asylums, and our far eastern policy has—until recently—been reminiscent of those institutions.

Think what our unbelievable mistakes—if "mistakes" they be—have meant to hundreds of millions of orientals and to hundreds of millions of occidentals. Hark back to Yalta and to that tragic meeting wherein the fate of humanity was sealed by Stalin, Alger Hiss and a tired and sick Franklin Roosevelt, and you will be starting from the foundation of a course of procedure which may go down in history as the greatest setback to man's search for freedom since the barbarians overran Europe in the fifth century.

We say "may" because no one knows today just what the outcome of Russia's acquisition of China portends. At the worst it can start with the fall of Korea and of all southeast Asia, Japan and the Philippines, and then travel west to India and on to the Mediterranean and the North sea. America's fate will then hang in the balance. At the best it can stop right where it is today — and this seems most improbable.

Not all the present threatening situation can be blamed on our far eastern policy, but the acquisition of several hundred million oriental allies will certainly strengthen the foundation of the edifice of world slavery which is the avowed objective of a few power-mad Marxists in the Kremlin and is predicated upon the liquidation of all but the lowest elements of society—and the physical subjection of these.
