Philpot Feed Co. Gets Real Results

Philpot Feed & Seed Company have been conducting a very interesting experiment in their store the past four months, which was climaxed by a big birthday party last Wednesday night. Nearly four months ago they brought a young heifer calf named Beautina into their store and has remained there ever since in an especially constructed pen. The calf was born April 1st, and weighed 80 pounds. For the first 30 days she was fed on a ration of half-milk and half-water and what- ever Purina Calf Starters she could consume. After that time she was fed exclusively on Purina Calf Starters hay, salt and water.

When she was weighed on her four-month birthday she tipped the scales at 262 pounds and had eaten 425 pounds of Calf Starter. The figures showed a gain of 182 pounds at a total cost of $28.50. She was such a fine calf and had become such good friends with every child in the community that Mr. Philpot celebrated her birthday by giving a big party, which was attended by 200 guests. Ice cream was the main feature of the evening with every child in town sporting a big Beautina balloon.

Beautina wasn't the least impressed by all the fuss being made over her and even ignored completely, the "cake" with the four candles. After the party was over she was removed from her apartment in the feed store to the wide open spaces of a pasture. Bert says that she didn't know how to act at first but when she finally got the drift of a carefree life in the country she kicked up her heels and raced off to make new friends.

Legion Meeting Promises Many Big Features

One of the liveliest American Legion State Conventions in recent years is forecast for the 32nd annual meeting which will convene in Lincoln next Friday and continue through Sunday.
Two candidates for the position of Department Commander are already in the field, and it is rumored that more may get into the race. Arthur Melles of Nebraska City and Emil Nelson of Potter tossed their hats into the ring some time ago. Melles is an Army veteran of World War II, while Nelson served in the Navy in World War I. Four department Vice Commanders, a department Chairman, a National Committeeman and an alternate National Committeeman are also to be elected. The election will take place at the final session on Sunday, August 20.

Several speakers of national prominence are to appear on the program. General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, will be unable to be present as originally planned, but he is sending Daniel O. Omer, general counsel of the Selective Service System as his representative. His talk will be on Friday afternoon, August 18.

National Adjutant Henry H. Dudley, former Department Adjutant of Nebraska, but now at national headquarters of the Legion in Indianapolis, will speak on the Sunday program. Governor Val Peterson, Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons, former State Superintendent Wayne O. Reed, and officials of the Veterans Administration in the state will appear at various times. Governor Peterson will address the joint session of the Legion and Auxiliary which will be held Friday morning, August 18.

One feature of the convention will be the annual parade, scheduled for 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, August 19. A number of musical organizations have stated they will take part in the parade. It is understood there may be some mounted delegations from some of the Legion districts, and some other unusual entertainment may be provided in the parade. The parade route will cover the principal downtown streets.
The final session of the convention on Sunday, August 20, will be the one providing most of the fireworks. In addition to the election of officers, the Resolutions Committee will report at that meeting, and there are rumors that some "hot" resolutions will be presented.

Historical Group Meet at Greenwood

The Cass County Historical Society, of which Dr. G. H. Gilmore, of Murray is president, and Miss Barbara Gering, secretary, are to enjoy a meeting out in the county on Wednesday, August 16th.

The meeting for August is to be held at Greenwood, where the party will gather at the American Legion hall in that city at noon. A luncheon will be enjoyed and the program will be on "Greenwood and Vicinity and Early History." A most interesting time is anticipated by those interested in the early history of Cass county and eastern Nebraska.

Returns from Idaho Trip

Warren Tulene, who has been visiting in Idaho for the past several weeks, has returned home to this city. Mr. Tulene was at Boise, Idaho, the greater part of his stay, visiting his daughter, Mrs. George Iske and husband.
He enjoyed the trip very much and reports that politics was hot in the state when he left, with the chief interest being the senatorial struggle between Senator Taylor and former Senator D. Word Clark. The election is still in doubt.

Howard Clark To Chicago

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark departed this morning (Monday) for Chicago where they will spend a few days. Howard is to have a check-up at a hospital where he was operated on several weeks ago for a back injury. He has been off of work as foreman of the maintenance of ways gang for the Burlington for the greater part of the year. It is hoped that he will be found in condition to resume his work soon.

Miss Mary Margaret Price of Kansas is visiting Miss Patricia Thomas and her mother, Mrs. Maud Thomas.

More than $21,000,000.000 worth of life insurance was sold to Americans in 1947.

AVIATION ENGINEERS WORK KOREAN STYLE—Before adequate modern equipment was available, a small detachment of U. S. Army Aviation Engineers supervised Korean laborers in repairing this damaged runway. Supplies for the ground forces in the front lines were airlifted to this strip and then sent to their destination by truck and rail. Standing in the left foreground is Captain William Turner, in charge of the Engineers in this South Korean area, who directs tedious pick and shovel work.

CARROTS COST LITTLE

You don't need a gold mine to pay for building farm terraces, and they pay for themselves in extra crops within three years.
H. O. Anderson, of the USDA Soil Conservation Service, says it cost $4 to $5 per acre to build terraces on 42 Wisconsin farms in 1949. Thirty-six men used a county road grader, the others used their farm plow and tractor. These days, private contractors with their own equipment also build many farm terraces.

Experiments in Wisconsin have shown that crop yields are from 10 to 15 per cent higher on terraced than on nonterraced land. This yield difference is worth $2.75 per acre per year, declares Anderson, even at very moderate prices.
Even with no yield advantage the terraces will pay for themselves in only three years' time.

He bases his claim on a 10 per cent increase in yields of 50 bushels of corn, 50 bushels of oats, and 2 1/2 tons of hay in a four-year rotation, all figured at "very moderate prices."
Terraces should be planned and staked out by trained, experienced persons. They're properly planned and given a little maintenance, says, terraces will last indefinitely.

Driver School At University

Plans are under way for an institute on advanced work in driver education and traffic safety to be held August 21 to 25 at the University of Nebraska Teachers college.
The institute will be held in response to requests by driver education instructors for additional training. Freeman B. Decker, state superintendent of public instruction, said Thursday.

Professor Amos E. Nephart, of the Institute of Public Safety, Pennsylvania state college, will conduct the institute.

Co-operating in the institute will be the state department of public instruction, safety patrol, traffic engineering department of roads and irrigation, University of Nebraska teachers college, the state department of Lincoln-Lancaster safety council, the state teachers colleges, Nebraska State Education association and the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers. Milton B. Beckmann, University of Nebraska, is in charge of arrangements.

SUFFERS INJURED HAND

Harold Peterson, Omaha school instructor, who is recovering here at the home of his father-in-law, Glenn Valley, had an unpleasant experience this week.
He was out at the farm helping with hay. As the hay was being stored in the loft of a large barn, the hook used in lifting the hay fell and struck Mr. Peterson on the hand, inflicting a very severe painful injury.

GO ON OUTING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Shellenbarger and sons, Michael and Jerome, are spending a vacation in the cool of the Colorado climate this week. They motored to Estes Park, Denver and other places of interest in that part of the west.

Knabe Pays Out $1050 for First Hamp Pedigree

over this purchase—it is a highlight of my 32 years as a breeder of Hampshires. I started with a belted litter as a 4-H club project and the breed has been wonderfully good to the Knabe family. My son John, together with his older sister, Margaret Ann, has made gratifying success of his club work. It is my hope that John may derive incentive and inspiration from our owning this pedigree that, to me, symbolizes the superior merit of Hampshires and the grand people who breed and improve them."
