

Blue Devils Lose 13-0 At Ashland

The Plattsmouth Blue Devils Friday evening were turned back in their second East Nebraska conference game by the Ashland Bluejays on the Saunders county gridiron 13 to 0.

Both teams showed lack of experience in the contest with the breaks of the game going to the Ashland Bluejays, aiding them in their scoring in the second quarter of the game.

In the second quarter Gary Campbell carried the pigskin over for the counter from the six yard line of Plattsmouth, climaxing an Ashland drive that netted them thirty-four yards.

In the third quarter of the contest the Blue Devils sustained their strongest drive of the game, going to the 10-yard line of Ashland where the Bluejays were able to hold them for downs and recovered the ball.

The second Ashland tally came in the final quarter of the game when Campbell was able to intercept a Plattsmouth forward pass in midfield. The scoring came when Clarence Owens drove over from the Blue Devils 13-yard stripe to bring the final score to 13-0.

Plattsmouth's defense was not strong enough to thrust back the Bluejays at decisive times during the battle. In the last of the fourth quarter Coach Stewart called in his reserves to take over the line defense.

Despite their lack of playing experience Russell Meintz, Bob Wondra, Clifford Kennell and Jerry Wood showed good fighting spirit.

Dasher in the backfield was the main offensive threat to the Bluejays and was also the target of their defense.

The Junior Blue Devils will go to Ashland Wednesday where they will battle the Juniors of that city.

Friday night the Blue Devils cross the Missouri and invade the fair of the Glenwood Rams. Glenwood this year has shown a good record in the games played and will prove a hard foe for the locals. Plattsmouth was the winner last year on the Plattsmouth grounds by the score of 7 to 0.

Wandering Mule Causes Car Mishaps

Saturday a mule wandering on highway No. 75, near the drive-in theatre north of this city, caused damage to two autos and injuries to the occupants of one of the cars.

The mule first appeared on the scene as a car driven by John Carmack with Mrs. Carmack and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Engenberger as passengers, came along. The mule ran into the roadway, his head hitting the windshield of the Carmack car, breaking it and Mr. Carmack suffered a slight cut on the face. The occupants of the car with other passengers drove the animal off the road.

A few moments after the first accident the mule again strayed onto the highway, ran into the path of a car driven by John Kaffenberger. The car hit the mule and was killed. The impact was sufficient to do damage estimated at $200 to the car of Mr. Kaffenberger. Miss Ruth Wurga, a passenger in the car, received a number of painful cuts on her arm and had her glasses broken.

Beatrice Hoel Farrell Coming

Plattsmouth is to have another treat afforded them for the early winter entertainment season in the visit of Beatrice Hoel Farrell, noted book reviewer.

Mrs. Farrell has been a visitor for the past few years in Plattsmouth, appearing under the auspices of the Federation of the First Presbyterian church.

Noted for her dramatic work, Mrs. Farrell has thrilled her audiences in the past with her wonderful readings.

This year the series of three entertainments comprise: October 10th, "Middle Heaven" by Mona Gardner; November 14, "White Witch Doctor" by Louise Stinetorf; and December 12th, a "Variety Program" of Christmas readings.

These will be given at the church auditorium at 8 o'clock in the evening on the dates specified.

VISIT FATHER

Cars Damaged In Crash Friday

Late Friday afternoon a car crash on North Sixth Street did a great deal of damage to the cars involved when an auto driven by Mrs. Frank Shoebottom crashed into the rear of a parked car owned by Robert H. Stevens.

The Stevens car had been left parked in front of the residence when the Shoebottom car came into contact with it. City police estimated damage to the Stevens car to be approximately $200. Damage to the Shoebottom auto would run close to $100. From the impact of the crash, Mrs. Shoebottom suffered a laceration of a lip when thrown against the front of the car.

Auxiliary To Aid Legion Member Drive

The American Legion Auxiliary of Hugh J. Kearns Post 56 held their regular meeting Thursday evening in the meeting room of the 40 & 8 Club rooms.

All officers were present and the meeting was presided over by the president Dorothy Janacek. Reports were given by the various committees. Vera Wurga, co-chairman of the King Korn Carnival, Koronation gave a report on the Koronation and thanked the Auxiliary for their splendid cooperation.

The Sergeant at Arms escorted the Post Commander, Donald J. Wurga, into the room and he asked the cooperation of the Auxiliary in the Post's membership drive and other projects for the year. The Auxiliary agreed to cooperate with the Post.

The members decided to have another spaghetti dinner Armistice Day, with Sophia Wolever as chairman. This project was a success last year and the Auxiliary hopes for a better turnout this year.

The president announced that the Auxiliary would have a registration for the King Korn Boys and Girls County sponsored by the Legion and to be held Monday, October 23.

A school of instruction is to be held at the Veterans Hospital in Lincoln and should be of interest to all Auxiliary members. This is to be held October 18th and 19th.

At the close of the meeting, delicious refreshments were served by the following committee: Faith Fries, Lillian Livingston, Alpha Muncie, Helen Rosborough and Lillian Schmidt.

Good Rain Here Thursday Night

This section of Cass county was visited by a good rain Thursday, registering 87 of an inch in Plattsmouth, even heavier in other sections of the county.

The rain followed a day of cloudiness and threats of rain several times, but it was not until during the night that it really broke loose.

West of Plattsmouth, an inch or better was reported by the farmers, also to the south and southwest.

The rain was very beneficial to the small grain farmers state and they are much pleased over the wet weather that they claim was quite badly needed.

Road Machine Uncovers A Burial Spot

Road machines engaged in work in the vicinity of Camp Harriett Harding west of Louisville, on Wednesday unearthed what seems to have been an Indian burial ground.

The machine was ditching and preparing the road, when the cache of bones was revealed. A law bone and other parts of a body were brought to Plattsmouth and turned over to Sheriff Tom Solomon to try and have the type and apparent age of the bones ascertained. The jaw bone indicated that it was probably that of a male, the worn condition indicated that it was a person well advanced in age.

Through to past years these Indian graves have been revealed along the bluffs of the Platte and Missouri rivers. In this section, where in past years Indians have maintained their villages and buried their dead near the hills.
