Plattsmouth Navy Mothers Meet

The Plattsmouth Navy Mothers met at the home of Mrs. Will Hennings for their regular meeting and election of officers. Last year's officers were re-elected by a unanimous vote. The members are working on keyettes for navy veterans' wives.

It was voted to spend thirty dollars for gifts to send to the Veterans Hospital at Lincoln. Christmas cards are being sent to navy, marine, and coast guard boys from Plattsmouth that are now in service. The club members enjoyed a social hour with a gift exchange and a lunch served by Mrs. Hennings.

Garden Club Meets At R. B. Keller Home

A group of members and friends of the Plattsmouth Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. R. B. Keller Wednesday for an evening of making Christmas arrangements for their home use as well as for gifts. Many unique and beautiful designs brought out the artistic ability of the makers. A very pleasant time was enjoyed followed by serving of refreshments by the hostess, Mrs. Keller.

Read Guehlstorff-Kupke Marriage Lines At Murdock

Sunday evening, Dec. 3, 1950, at 7:30 o'clock, Eileen Kupke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kupke, of Louisville, and Mr. Elmer Guehlstorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Guehlstorff, of Wabasha, were united in marriage at the Trinity Lutheran church at Murdock by Rev. Walter Wendland. The double ring ceremony was used.

Martin Bohlsen, uncle of the bride, at the organ played the wedding marches; "Take Thou My Hand," Lohengrin's and "Recessional" by Mendelssohn. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Ruth Guehlstorff as maid of honor and Delmer Guehlstorff, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. James Carson and Mrs. Donald Deal, classmates of the couple were bridesmaids. Mr. John Guehlstorff and Mrs. Oliver Kupe were ushers.

Darlene Bohlsen was flower girl.

Eldred Thimghan and Dorothy Bohlsen sang two duets: "O Perfect Love" and "Today O Lord."

The bride wore a white satin gown made with a net veile and trimmed with long sleeves coming to a point over the wrist. Her finer tip veil of white illusion was held in place with a crown of seed pearls. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Her flowers were an empire bouquet of white carnations. Miss Ruth Guehlstorff wore a blue satin gown with a net veile and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and gardenias.

Mrs. Carson wore a blue satin gown and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations. Mrs. Deal wore a pink satin gown and also carried a colonial bouquet.

The flower girl wore a floor length dress of pink satin and carried a basket of rose petals.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of ferns and nasturtium flowers and two seven branch candelabras which were lighted by the ushers.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the church parlors decorated with pink and white streamers with a large white bell hanging over the center of the wedding table. A three tiered, pink and white decorated wedding cake centered the table.

A lunch was served by friends of the bride and groom.

For traveling the bride wore a black dress trimmed in sequins with black accessories and a gray topper. Her corsage was of white carnations.

After a short honeymoon the couple will be at home near Murdock.

Lt. White and Wife Visit in Plattsmouth

Lt. J. G. and Mrs. Allan White are here for a visit with Lt. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. White, arriving here Sunday from their home at Coronado, Calif., where they have resided for the most part since 1947. They took the southern route and reported a trip, encountering no bad weather and visiting many points of interest along the way, among them the famous Carlsbad Caverns.

Lt. and Mrs. White are en route to Washington, D. C., where he has been given a new assignment of duty. Each year 40 to 50 men are selected from the entire personnel of the navy for training in the Naval Intelligence School and Allan was among those selected for this course which will last about a year. He has been serving for the last two and one half years as Operations Officer on the destroyer Rogers.

Before leaving California the Whites had a most enjoyable visit with Cpl. Kenneth White stationed with the Marines at Camp Pendleton. Kenneth's company was scheduled to go overseas but he was selected to remain with the headquarters company as an instructor. The brothers have spent much time together and were with each other for Thanksgiving.

Lt. and Mrs. White will be here until Dec. 22nd.

St. Paul's Circle Holds Christmas Party Monday

Circle I met at the home of Miss Sophia Kreager on Monday, Dec. 11 for a 6:30 turkey dinner.

The tables were decorated with evergreen and colored Christmas tree bulbs with callers under old fashioned lamp posts.

Misses Amelia Martens and Laura Meisinger were in charge of the table decorations.

After the dinner the dishes were washed and then the business portion of the circle was conducted by the chairman, Sophia Kreager.

The devotions were given by Lorinne Urish. Mrs. Vernie Kaffenberger read "The Legend of the Poinsetta," also the Christmas Story. A candle light service with several carols were also a part of the devotion.

A rising vote of thanks was given the committee who planned and prepared the meal.

Meeting was closed and a gift exchange was enjoyed. The gifts being placed under the beautifully decorated and lighted tree.

There were 17 members and two guests that enjoyed the event.

Circle III met at 6:30 in the church parlors for their Christmas dinner and party. Colored popcorn wreaths were the favors at each plate. The tables were very pretty with large popcorn wreaths, lighted candles, cedar branches and reindeer.

Mrs. L. W. Egenberger and Mrs. James Kaffenberger decorated the tables.

A committee also planned and prepared the delicious meal which was so greatly enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Emil Schmidt used the topic, Christmastime, as her devotion theme.

A playlet, "Candlelighting Time," was presented by some of the members. Katherine Parkening played musical setting and Christmas songs during the play and for group singing.

At close of play the business part of the meeting was conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Naeve. The year's work was reviewed and closed. Roll call found 21 members and eight visitors present.

Gives Last In Series Of Book Reviews Tuesday

A good attendance greeted Mrs. John Jesse, prominent Omaha book reviewer, in the last of a series of book reviews sponsored by the Federation of the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Jesse titled her program "Christmas Selections", very fitting to the season. Her portrayal of the characters in Lloyd Douglas' book "Home for Christmas" was very real and took many of the listeners back to "the good old days of their childhood," and Christmas observances of yesteryears.

"The Little Mixer" by Lillian Shearon was a tale of childish belief and faith in Santa Claus irrespective of religion and carried a lesson in religious prejudice that could be applied to every day living.

The evening's program ended with a delightful reading entitled "Button Button" by Cornelia Otis Skinner. This sketch depicted the humorous situation of a young boy dressing for his first formal Christmas party.

As a prelude to the reviews, Mrs. Verna Goos played Christmas Carols on the organ.

A Montana test on grassland feeding showed that 14 2-year-old steers fed on 46 acres of wheatgrass gained 318 pounds per head in 98 days.
