Nebraska Is a Big State

Did you know it's as far across the state, from Falls City to Crawford—as from Omaha to Chicago? Yes, Nebraska is a state of unusual distances!

Likewise, Nebraska is a state of unusual citizens. The civic consciousness of Nebraskans has set the standard for a high level of business ethics.

This attitude is apparent in the conduct of the state's taverns. Following the lead of the industry's program of self-regulation in the public interest, Nebraska tavernmen strive honestly to operate their places so as to gain public approval.

Thanks to the industry's educational program, the state's taverns, today, are largely attractive, respectable, orderly. They are a credit to a great state.

Your cooperation will help maintain this favorable record.
