Last Rites Are Held for Mrs.
Ginerva Iyson
Lincoln—Special to the Journal Ginerva Iyson, Jennie as she was known here, was born at St. Joe, Indiana, August 21, 1865, and passed away at her home in Lincoln, March 16, 1951, being over 85 years of age.
She was the daughter of Rev.
Cyrus and Mrs. Ginerva Iyson.
She came to this community at the age of 7, and lived here all of the 80 years, except the four years spent at Plattsmouth when her husband was county clerk. She was married married to Lewis A. Iyson, seven of their eight children survive. They are Mrs. Fleming Iyson (deceased) and Mrs. Marion McCurry (widow) of Elmwood, Cyrus of Omaha, Noel of Cambridge, Dr. Roland Iyson, of Lincoln, Floyd and Mrs. W. J.
Brown (widow) of Lincoln, and Louis (widow) of Eaton, Colorado. There are 12 grand children and 13 great grandchildren.
Preceding her in death were her parents, her sister, Mrs. Wm.
Waters (widow) and her brother Dr. Wm. A. Iyson.
Mrs. Iyson had the distinction of being the last member of the order of Elmwood Christian church and of having the longest continuous membership here. She was also a charter member of Koyal Neighbors.
She was also distinguished because of her kind and loving disposition, and her calm manner of life. Her memory is beautiful for her family and many friends.
Rev. Elby Boosinger conducted funeral services at the Christian church March 13th. He gave an especially helpful and inspirational sermon with thoughts about Psalm 23. Mrs.
Iyson Moore played the piano music and accompanied Mrs.
Fred Linhardt and Mrs. V. G.
Clements when they sang "No Night There" and "Ivory Palaces." Floral offerings were many and beautiful.
Casket bearers were Elmer Shreve, Joe Parriott, Grover Hill, Clarence Fueter, John Box and George Coatsman. Interment in Elmwood cemetery.

Tree Shipments
Are Due Soon
LINCOLN—Shipment of over one million Clark-McNary trees will begin the last part of March or the first part of April, depending on local weather conditions, according to Earl G. Maxwell, extension forester at the University of Nebraska.
Mr. Maxwell, who is in charge of the tree distribution, advised those receiving the trees to get them planted as soon as possible. He said that ground preparations should be made now so trees may be set out when they arrive. If it is not possible to get the trees planted immediately, Mr. Maxwell said they should be heeled in and not left in the packing boxes.
The forester said the demand for the trees this year was stronger than in 1950. Chinese Elms and American Elms were the only trees available. Several orders have been turned down the last two weeks, according to the forester.
The University of Illinois football stadium, which seats 66,752, is a memorial to Illinois students who died during World War I.

Poultry And Egg Bulletin Is Out
LINCOLN—A new bulletin on marketing poultry and eggs is off the press at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture.
The publication, compiled by Extension Marketing Specialist J. W. Goble and Dr. H. C. Filley, former head of the agricultural economics department, outlines information on market research, problems of the poultry industry and the results of a producer survey in Nebraska. Here are some of the observations the authors make:
More than 48 per cent of the egg producers in Nebraska marketed their product once each week. Over 38 per cent marketed twice a week; 1.5 per cent, three times a week, and other producers marketed when the case was filled.
Storage facilities provided by most dealers were inadequate for keeping egg quality. In a consumer survey, families averaged 2.9 members and consumed an average of 1.8 dozen eggs per week. Most consumers said prices differences had little influence on the quality or grade of eggs purchased.

Treat Oat And Barley Seed Now
LINCOLN—Don't wait any longer to get your oats and barley treated. It's getting very near planting time.
That's the advice from the University of Nebraska plant pathology department. They say to treat oats and barley with Creosan M or Panogen.
According to the pathologists, treating will control both loose and covered smut of barley. And treating will protect the seed while it is germinating in the soil, giving the young emerging seedling a better chance to become a healthy, vigorous plant.
Another crop, they say, which needs treatment for smut control, is sorghum. It should be treated with Creosan M or Panogen also.
The pathologists add that it pays to treat all vegetable seeds.
If you have already ordered your seed, the next step is to give the seeds the proper protection against the parasites waiting to attack them after they are planted. Before planting, treat them with Spergon or Arasan.
These compounds will, in a sense, form a protective armor around the seeds and will either kill or ward off the disease organisms trying to enter the seed.

County Bond Sales $20,000 In February
Walter H. Smith, Chairman of the Savings Bond Committee, announced today that sales for the month of February in Cass County totaled $26,537.50.
At the same time, Leiland R.
Hall, State Director, announced that total sales in Nebraska for the month were $6,369,266.31, of which 67 1/2% was in Series "E" Bonds.
Hall took issue with those who criticize the Savings Bond Program because the value of the dollar has declined. "That is true," Hall said, "but so is the value of the dollar in any other form of savings. An investment in bonds takes just that much money out of circulation, and is just that much of a check on inflation. In order to combat this danger, we need a tough program of anti-inflation. The program and Defense Bonds are a very necessary part of that program." "Wise management of the huge public debt is an absolute necessity," he added.

More Flock Feed Troughs Are Needed
LINCOLN—Experimental work has finally furnished the answer to the problem of how many feed troughs should be provided for each 100 hens according to J. H. Claybaugh, extension poultry husbandman at the University of Nebraska.
Mr. Claybaugh explains that six, four-foot feed troughs per 100 birds gave satisfactory results, but three of them, four feet in length were not adequate. These experimental results show that providing more mash troughs is the easiest and cheapest way to encourage hens to eat a greater proportion of mash so she will boost egg production.
Field observations have shown that in those flocks producing the greatest number of eggs per house will appear to be crowded with feed troughs. But that makes mash easily available, says Mr. Claybaugh.

ONE WAY TO CONTRIBUTE
SALT LAKE CITY—Hardened criminals at the Utah state prison are convinced they have contributed to society in their own way. The convicts put it in words in the current issue of the prison publication, The Utah Trainer. "No one is entirely useless. Even the worst of us can serve as horrible examples."
