

Nebraskans May Well Be Proud

You can be proud that your state has no bonded debt as many others have—no state income tax—no general sales tax.

You can be proud that Nebraska has one of the lowest per capita taxes in the nation—about 27% less than the national per capita state average! This speaks sound planning and good management.

You can be proud, too, that your state is noted for other achievements. Nebraska tavernmen are known, far and wide, for operating clean wholesome places, well within all legal requirements, and for shouldering their share of the responsibility to build a better community and state.

This is a result of the brewing industry's educational program for retailers, now in its eleventh year.

Jolly Health Club Discusses Camp

The Jolly Health Club met at the home of their leader, Margaret Ranney, with a lesson demonstrated by her on white sauce served on toast with grated cheese topping. Response to roll call was what each member liked best in meats and the recipe for that meat. A discussion was held on the possibilities of attending 4-H camp at Camp Harding. Most of the members expressed a desire to attend the three day camp. Phyllis Krogh, our new member, was the refreshment hostess and served the toast and white sauce demonstration, with cookies and a fruit drink. Table courtesies were especially observed during the refreshment hour and much fun as well as information was gained as we noted the errors in dining manners which are apt to pass unnoticed from day to day. These errors if continued are most likely to become habits which are objectionable in correct dining.

Miss La Vonne Lühring spent last week end at Murray with the parents of her friend, Mr. and Mrs. Greeley Bell. While there she attended the shower which was given in honor of Miss Joan Smith, whose engagement to Pvt. Arthur Taylor was announced recently.
