

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

The Christian's Respect for Law
Lesson for August 19: Luke 20:
39-26; 1 Peter 2: 13-17
Memory Selection: Luke 20: 25

IN THEIR EFFORTS to entangle Jesus in his discourse and to bring him to say something that would offend either the people or the Roman authorities, the scribes and chief priests set spies upon him to report upon what he said. These spies asked him if it were lawful to give tribute unto Caesar. When Jesus had asked to be shown the tribute money and had seen on a coin the image of Caesar, he said unto his questioners: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's."

Thus, instead of being himself entangled, Jesus answered an important question with great wisdom, and laid down a principle that will be depended upon to the present time. And neither the people nor the Roman authorities could take any offence at what Jesus said.

Turning to the first Epistle of Peter, we find the writer urging strict obedience, to men in places of authority, and the closes with the exhortation: "Fear God, honor the king."

So may we know that Christian living demands the right regard for the established institutions of the country, as knowing that government, in its origin and authority, is from God, and that it has a rightful claim upon every man. "The powers that be are ordained of God," and good citizenship is a part of Christian living.

Christian Science Services

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 19, 1951. The Golden Text is: "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. . . Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths." (Psalms 25:1, 4). Other Bible citations include: "For the Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly." (Psalms 84:11.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is infinite, the only Life, substance, Spirit, or Soul, the only intelligence of the universe, including man. The individuality of Spirit, or the infinite, is unknown, and thus a knowledge of it is left either to human conjecture or to the revelation of divine Science." (Page 330.)

Lime-Phosphate Benefits Told

LINCOLN — Here are some concrete figures which show how lime and phosphate pay off in eastern Nebraska.

Data were taken by Extension Soils Specialist Wilbur Ringler from a test plot on the Vern Krull farm, about 12 miles south of Lincoln.

On a plot where lime and phosphate both were added the yield of hay per acre was 5,476 pounds. A check plot which had no fertilizer treatment yielded only 3,562 pounds per acre. Where only lime was added the yield was 4,637 pounds per acre, an increase of 1,675 pounds. Phosphate alone added brought a yield of 3,810 pounds. That was an increase of only 248 pounds. The lime and phosphate in combination increased the yield 1,914 pounds. Rate of application was four tons of lime per acre and 500 pounds of 0-45-0 (phosphate) per acre. All of the lime and phosphate was applied August 19, 1950. It was broadcast and disked into the soil before seeding the alfalfa. Potash applications showed no response.
