Plattsmouth-College View To Open Conference Play

For the second year in a row, Plattsmouth high school's football team will be out of town during the King Korn Carnival. Always one of the top attractions during the Carnival when the team is at home, the Blue Devils will be at College View Friday night. It will be the second game of the season for the gridders, who tied Auburn here last week, 0-0.

Coach Merle Stewart said today that approximately the same lineup would start against the Viewmen. There is an outside chance that one or two shifts may result however.

Probable starters are Ronald Hunt and Bob Wondra at ends; Dick March and Everett Markey at tackles; Cliff Kennell and David Newburn at guards; and Jerry Wood at center.

Tom Conis will start at quarter, Stan Cole and Captain Jack Todd at the halves, and Jon Schuetz or Hodge Eaton at full. An East Nebraska Seven conference game, it will be the first conference test for both teams. College View stopped Friend last week 18-0.

Generally considered one of the top teams in the conference, College View is expected to be tough. But, Stewart said, "they'll have to score at least three touchdowns to beat us."

The Blue Devils were put through extensive offensive blocking assignments this week in an attempt to iron out the flaws in the Blue Devils' offensive. Blocking was particularly lacking in last week's fray here.

But with the blocking expected to be greatly improved, and with the defensive unit expected to continue its heads up play, Plattsmouth could easily come home the winner.

Practice sessions have been somewhat interfered with this week. Stewart said the squad was transported to another practice field Wednesday night, while preparations were made for the Horse Show to be held at the field. Light workouts will be held at the field this afternoon.

Game-time at College View will be eight o'clock.

Nehawka And Eagle Rate Spotlight In Six-Man Grid Play

Eagle and Nehawka rate the top spot in Cass county six-man grid action this week. The two teams will meet at Nehawka Friday.

Nehawka opened play with a 13-6 win over Dunbar last week and Eagle was host to Bennett.

Union, victim of Alvo's attack Friday, will meet Bennett on the Bennett field also Friday. Alvo is not scheduled.

Bowlers Will Have League Meeting

A reminder was issued today for bowlers in the community to get teams together for the start of league play at the Plattsmouth Bowling Alleys.

A league meeting will be held October 4 to develop plans for conducting league activity. Play will start October eight.

Teams are asked to list their sponsors' names with the management.

Reserves Thrash Bellevue B Team Here Monday

Tommy Livingston, 150-pound junior, Monday afternoon paced the Plattsmouth Reserves to a 25-0 win over the Bellevue B team.

Livingston scored twice in the final period on runs of 35 and three yards to turn the otherwise close contest into a rout.

But Donald Bocock, also a junior, broke the ice early in the game by dashing 20 yards to score the Reserves first touchdown. The Blue Devils led 6-0 at the quarter, a lead they held until the second half.

Bob Sheard, who returned to the squad after dropping earlier, accounted for the second six-pointer as he scampered 12 yards to pay dirt. Bocock then crashed over for the only extra point.

Louisville Grid Team To Table Rock Friday

Held to a 12-12 tie by Nebraska City B Thursday night, Louisville gridders appear ready to tangle with Table Rock this week end.

The game will be played at Table Rock, loser to Weeping Water last week.

In addition to providing Coach Darrell Brandenburg with an opportunity to test the improvements of his gridders after one engagement, it will also give Cass countians a chance to compare the two county schools.

Weeping Water and Louisville will tangle the following week. Weeping Water edged Table Rock 6-0.

But more important at the moment is the Louisville-Table Rock game Friday. Brandenburg is expected to start the same eleven that opened against Nebraska City.

That will put Jim Persinger and Kenny Dobbs at ends; Don Dobbs and Floyd Rawlings at tackles; Tom Meisinger and Dick Schroppner at guards and Gordon Grell at center.

Don Heady and Bob Webel, who scored Louisville's 12 points last week will start at one half and full. Filling out the backfield will be Bruce Hirsch at quarter and Chris Saiburg at the other half.

Bicycles of all sorts are on the market again. Come spring, let tandemium reign.

Hunting Season Nears; Game Birds Described

(This is the first of a series of duck and goose identification tests to appear in this newspaper. The Nebraska Game Commission prepared both the drawings and test in order to acquaint all Nebraskans with the species of migratory waterfowl which frequent the state.)

1. COMMON CANADA GOOSE—Sometimes called "honker," "Canadian goose," "Canadian," or "wild goose." It is the largest of the wild geese attaining a weight of 8 to 13 pounds and a length of 35 to 43 inches. For a bird of such large size it is extremely fast—attaining a speed of 40 to 60 miles an hour. Canada geese formerly nested in Nebraska. The black neck and white throat patch make the Canada group easy to identify. Their food consists of grains, grasses, small green plants and small quantities of animal matter.

2. LESSER CANADA GOOSE—Is similar to the Common Canada except for size. Other names used are same as those referred to its larger brother, the Common Canada. This goose attains a weight of five to seven pounds and a length of 25 to 34 inches. As a rule, the Lesser Canada is browner in color than the Common Canada. The call of this goose is higher pitched than that of the Common Canada which helps to separate the two species in the air.

3. HUTCHINS' GOOSE—Is marked exactly like the Canada goose and is approximately the size of a large mallard. These geese weigh three to four pounds and have a body length of 23 to 25 inches. Flight speed is about the same as the larger geese, having been clocked at 40 to 50 miles per hour. Sometimes they are called "Richardson's goose," "hutch," "brant," or "cackling goose." Most of the Hutchins' geese migrate southward in the eastern portion of Nebraska. The Hutchins' may be readily separated from the Common and Lesser Canadas by its short bill, small size, and much higher pitched call.

REGULATIONS: Open season Oct. 19-Dec. 7, inclusive. Area open: Entire state except federal and state sanctuaries and refuges. Hours open each day: From one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset, except that the hour for the commencement of hunting of waterfowl on the first day of the season be 12 o'clock noon.

Daily bag limit: Five (5), including in such limit not more than 2 Canada geese or its subspecies; or not more than 2 white-fronted geese; or not more than 1 Canada goose or its subspecies and 1 white-fronted goose. The Possession limit at any time after opening day is the same as the daily bag limit.

Use of live decoys or bait is prohibited.

Ceresco Next For Coach Johnston's Elmwood Players

Coach Johnny Johnston may be without the services of starting end Keith Bornemeier Friday when his Elmwood charges test Ceresco's six-man gridders.

Bornemeier twisted a knee on the first play of the game against St. Joseph's of York Thursday night in which Elmwood lost 25-6.

After trailing 19-0 at half-time the Elmwood gridders battled the York crew on even terms the second half with Keith Drake scoring the Cass countian's lone touchdown in the third period. York got another six-pointer in the final canto.

But with one game under their belts, the Elmwood gridders will present a different appearance Friday against Ceresco. Dick Apt will probably draw the starting end assignment if Bornemeier is unable to start.

Other probable starters are John Thomas at center, Larry Lannin, at the other end; and Dudley Doebele, Keith Drake and Murrel McCoy in the backfield. Lannin was captain for the York game.

Weeping Water Seeks 2nd Win; Waverly Is Foe

Coach P. H. Hines' Weeping Water crew will seek its second win of the infant grid season Friday night, when it is host to Waverly.

Both teams won their initial assignments last Friday. Weeping Water stopping Table Rock 6-0 on a second quarter touchdown by M. Freisel, while Waverly crushed Odel 53-0.

The two teams will square off at the Weeping Water Athletic Field at eight o'clock Friday night.

Coach Hines will probably send the same starting lineup into the fray against Waverly. Drawing the starting assignments last week were W. Hermann and T. Bickford, ends; L. Graham and R. Betts, tackles; J. Garrison and R. Knapuk, guards, and R. Domingo, center. Starting in the backfield were J. Everett at quarter, M. Freisel and R. Lühring, halves, and R. Gibson, fullback.

Also slated for duty are ends, J. Faben and J. Murphy; tackles, C. Wiles and A. Plunket; guards, G. Wiles, R. Nannen; centers, B. Everett and R. Rhodes. Backs who saw duty last Friday in addition to the starters were L. Wade, J. Stacey, L. Schumaker, W. Meisinger, P. Meisinger and D. Krogh.
