Plattsmouth Holds League Leading Wahoo To Tie

Dark horse Plattsmouth moved to East Seven Nebraska conference picture around somewhat Friday as the Blue Devils held Wahoo to a 14-14 tie. At one point in the game, Plattsmouth appeared on the road to an upset.

Leading the league for the past two weeks, Wahoo maintained its conference lead despite the tie.

A 60-yard aerial from Quarterback Tom Conis to End Ronald Hunt pulled Plattsmouth back into the game after Wahoo had moved into a 7-0 first period lead. The score was tied 7-7 at halftime after Jack Todd's placement split the uprights.

Jon Schuetz put Plattsmouth ahead early in the third period as he crashed over from the two to cap a Blue Devil drive. A pass from Conis to Stan Cole brought the extra point and a 14-7 lead. The extra point pass play was completed after the Blue Devils were penalized 15 yards, when Todd's conversion try was good.

A 50-yard romp by Vennie Smith of Wahoo and a pass to Bill Edward knotted the count at 14-14.

Don Lindgren, who suffered a broken arm in the second quarter scored the Wahoo first touchdown on a 25-yard pass from Don Harris. After that Plattsmouth took over, and scored their two touchdowns. Paced by the throwing of Tom Conis and the end sweeps of Stanley Cole, the Blue Devils moved into a tie, and then garnered a 7-point lead.

Jon Schuetz booming punts kept the Warriors in hot water throughout much of the game. Schuetz consistently got off distance punts that kept Wahoo bottled up near their own goal line. Schuetz however was forced from the game mid-way through the final period when he suffered a charley horse. Blotzer replaced him on defense.

Everett Markey missed the game as a result of an injury suffered against Falls City a week ago. Otherwise the starting lineup went the distance for the Blue Devils.

Gretna Victim Of Alvo Power
Coach Ollie Mayfield's Alvo six-manners chalked up win number six Friday afternoon, blasting Gretna 50-0. The game was called early in the third period.

Alvo led 44-0 at halftime, and the Cass countians scored another six points.

Dick Prutz scored five touchdowns, James Weichel got one and Larry Bell one. The lost art of drop kicking was revived by Roger Kenny who kicked four of five attempts.

Alvo will meet Coach Johnny Johnston's Elmwood gridders Tuesday night at Weeping Water.

"Real Battle" Predicted; Alvo Elmwood Meet

"If the boys feel like playing ball, I feel confident we'll give them a real battle, if not beat them," Coach Johnny Johnston said as he viewed the outcome of his Elmwood gridders against undefeated Alvo.

The contest is slated for Tuesday night and will be played on the Weeping Water Athletic Field.

The two leading teams in Cass county six-man play, Alvo and Elmwood both boast outstanding records. Alvo is undefeated and has given only six points to opponents. After dropping the first game, Elmwood has taken five straight with comparative ease.

In Elmwood, the Orioles will find their toughest competition of the season. In previous games the Alvo sextet has never been forced to go the full four quarters.

Alvo will find something new to stop in Dudley Doebele. Elmwood speed merchant, and they'll be up against a line that is big and aggressive. John Thomas and Keith Drake will form the nucleus for a defensive team that could give Alvo a rough evening.

But the undefeated Orioles also boast speed, power and defensive finesse. It should be the game of the year in county six-man play.

A Cass county conference game, the winner of the Alvo-Elmwood contest should come through the conference crown.

Pass Combination Clicks

The pass combination of Tom Conis (left) and Ronald Hunt (right) struck again Friday night as the Plattsmouth Blue Devils held league leading Wahoo to a 14-14 tie. A week ago the same combination took to the air as Plattsmouth scored its only touchdown in losing to Falls City. Conis at quarterback, and Hunt at end, have been two of the outstanding performers for the Blue Devils during the 1951 grid campaign.

Grocers Sweep Series; Atop Bowling League

Joe's New-Way moved into undisputed first place in the Plattsmouth Bowling League during the past week, sweeping three games from the Eagles. The Grocers overcame more than an 80 pin handicap to remain undefeated.

But the handicap was too much for Jack & Elmers and they dropped three to the V. F. W. The Veterans needed the handicap only once for a clean sweep.

As a result the Plattsmouth Paint Store rode into second place, taking two and losing one to the Plattsmouth Journal. The Printers used a 30-point handicap to win the final game from the Painters.

Blue Devils To Test Nebraska City Wednesday

The Plattsmouth Blue Devils will invade the Class A grid department again this week as they travel to Nebraska City in one of the feature inter-county rivalries.

On paper Coach Stewart's team looks about even with Phil Young's crew. The Nebraska Citizens, after a rousing start, have run into trouble in recent weeks.

But on comparison of recent games, either team rates a chance to win Falls City, 27-7 victor of Plattsmouth a week ago, stopped Nebraska City last week 38-12. That gives both teams about the same point difference with the Blue Devils scoring a slight edge.

Because of teachers' conventions slated this week and throughout the state, the game will be played Wednesday night at Nebraska City. Schools will be closed Thursday and Friday.

Alvo Selected For Apple Bowl

Undefeated, untied and only once-scored on Alvo has been selected to play in the Apple Bowl Classic at Nebraska City November 12, Lincoln Cathedral, also undefeated, and top ranking six-man team in the state will provide the opposition.

The game will climax activities sponsored by the American Legion. An Apple Bowl queen will be selected from schools in the area. Several high school bands will also participate in the day long activities.

Louisville Drops Conference Tilt To Syracuse

Coach Darrell Brandenburg's Louisville Lions dropped their first game of the 1951 gridiron season and thus dropped the Southeastern Five Conference Championship to Syracuse.

Coach Bill Witt's Syracuse eleven stopped the Lions 27-13 Friday night.

The two teams had shared the conference lead with records of 3-0 until they met Friday. Louisville ended up in second place.

Bob Weibel paced the Louisville attack with a 50-yard scoring jaunt. Lyle Mannen and Bill Lippold each tallied 13 points or Syracuse.

Louisville held the edge in passing with 100 yards to 38 but its ground attack couldn't match that of Syracuse, who rolled up 308 yards.

Elmwood Rolls Over Nehawka 40-6 Friday

Paced by the blocking and tackling of Center John Thomas, the running of Dudley Doebele and Keith Drake, and fine all-around team work, Elmwood rode to an easy 40-6 win over Nehawka Friday.

Doebele raced to two first period touchdowns of 49 and 77 yards in hurrying Coach Johnny Johnston's six-manners into a first period 13-0 lead. Keith Bornemeier boosted the count to 19-0 as he scored on a pass early in the third period, after Nehawka had stiffened and held through the second period.

But then Keith Drake went 70 yards on a pass play that upped the count to 27-0 before Nehawka could put together its own scoring drive. Arlie Schomaker romped 43 yards for the Nehawkan's only touchdown.

Then Doebele returned to the scoring parade going over from the five. Lannin completed the Elmwood scoring with a 20 yard dash to pay dirt.

But despite the scoring the blocking of John Thomas, Keith Drake and Murrell McCloy stood out. On several occasions, Thomas would take out his man, and then get to his feet and escort the ball carrier into the end zone.

Thomas, McCoy, Larry Lannin and Orville Bogenrief stopped Nehawka reverses before they started as the Elmwood six played brilliant defensive ball. Thomas, on a half-dozen occasions broke through to spill Nehawka ball carriers for losses.

FIRST STEP
Sixty years ago the late George W. Norris apparently was making his first bid for public office. At least that is indicated by two 1892 issues of the Arapahoe Mirror found when an old log house was torn down north of Edson. The Sept. 15 edition of the two papers, which had been used to keep dirt from sifting through the boards in the ceiling, revealed that Norris had received the Republican nomination for county attorney.

ONE SOLUTION
Edward Brt of Crete believes he has grown a suitable substitute for beefsteak. It is three feet tall, shaped like a ram's horn, weighs around 10 pounds and can be raised at a nominal cost. It is related in appearance, but not in flavor, to the bean family. For all interested vegetarians, its name is Guinea bean.
