Trapping Of Mink, Muskrat Legal

The trapping season on muskrat and mink in Area No. 2, which includes Cass county, starts today, Thursday, November 15, and runs through January 15, 1952. There is no limit or hour restrictions.

Now in progress are trapping seasons on racoon, opossum, badger, skunk, civet and fox. There is no open season on beaver.

Trappers are reminded that all individuals desiring to trap in Nebraska must have a trapping permit regardless of age.

History shows that the press has been uniformly on the side of the common people.

Nebraskans Can Be Thankful

Nebraska is particularly fortunate this year in having excellent crops of corn, wheat, hay, and sugar beets. You can be thankful we have been so blessed.

Nebraskans can be thankful, too, for this state's successful system of self-regulation employed by our tavernmen. Today, Nebraska's attractive, respectable, orderly taverns are a credit to a great state.

This is a direct result of the brewing industry's continuing educational program aimed at encouraging approved tavern operation. Your tavernman has pledged his sincere cooperation to this program and, as a result, we have wholesome conditions in Nebraska's taverns for which we can all be thankful.
