

McBride Will Speak At Athletic Banquet April 7

Plans have been completed for the Athletic Banquet, sponsored by the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce, according to James Begley, chairman.

Gregg McBride, sports writer for the World-Herald, will be speaker. The banquet will be held at the high school gym on Monday, April 7, at 6:30 p. m.

Begley said that this year's banquet would be a reunion for the teams of 1931-32. It seemed only proper to issue special invitations to the members of these teams because it was also a reunion for Mr. McBride, who spoke in Plattsmouth 20 years ago.

Awards will be presented to the outstanding back for 1951, the outstanding lineman for 1951, and the most valuable basketball player for 1951-52. The selection of the recipients of these awards has been made by the members of the teams.

Bruce Gold, president of the Chamber, will present the awards. Walter H. Smith will act as toastmaster.

The Band Parents club will be in charge of the dinner, and the school's Pep club will be in charge of decorations and serving.

Tickets can be purchased from Chamber representatives. Reservations may be made by calling the Chamber office at 7190. Space has been limited to 250 people, and from the interest shown thus far, all spaces will be taken.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale at Schreiner Drug Store.

Dog, Meter Story Reprinted Again

Plattsmouth's famed dog sled and parking meter incident continues to appear in papers throughout the nation.

Most recent clipping received was from Mrs. Marie (Hamilton) Street, at Kingston, Tennessee, who clipped the account from the Knoxville Times and sent it to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Hamilton of Plattsmouth. Harold and Eugene Hamilton, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, are employed at Nashville on construction work.

Cpl. K. Wollen, Korean Veteran, Due Home Soon

Cpl. Kenneth E. Wollen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sterner, Weeping Water, Neb., is returning home under the Army's rotation policy after serving with the 7th Division on the Korean fighting front.

During recent action the division has been probing Communist positions in the mountains north of the 38th parallel. The 7th has been playing a major role in the Korean war since landing at Inchon in September 1950.

Corporal Wollen has been serving as a mechanic in the 32d Infantry Regiment. He entered the Army in September 1950, and since arriving in Korea has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge and the Korean Service Ribbon with one campaign star.

Competitive Shooting By Junior Riflemen Starts

Team competition got underway this week in the ranks of the Junior Rifle club sponsored by the 49 & 8. Three teams have been organized, and finished their first round of competition shooting.

Teams are captained by Jon Schuetz, Gerald Otterstein and Ron Eiserman. They are listed only as Teams One, Two and Three.

Eiserman's crew set the pace in first round shooting with 355 out of a possible 500. Denny Ptak led the riflemen with 82 out of a possible 100, shooting prone, sitting, kneeling and standing. Schuetz's crew hit 318 and Otterstein's 311.

But the No. 2 team captained by Otterstein had the individual high point man. Captain Otterstein had 92 points, while Jon Schuetz had an 88 for his team. Fifteen local boys are currently enrolled in the club and are entered in the competitive shooting. Results this week were:

Stanley Cole Rates Honorable Mention Among State Cagers

Stanley Cole, versatile Plattsmouth high school athlete, was listed among the state basketball players receiving honorable mention in the ratings released recently by the Omaha and Lincoln papers.

Cole established an individual season scoring record during the past season by registering nearly 350 points. He led the Blue Devils in scoring in practically every game, and paced the Plattsmouth cagers to the East Seven Nebraska Conference crown. Cole also tied an individual game scoring record of 30 points set by his brother, Sterling, and had 29 points in another contest.

Increased Homes For Wildlife Program Planned

Wildlife faces housing shortage. This problem is more serious in certain parts of the state than it is in others.

The problems of wildlife are many. Wildlife faces a constant battle for survival. Its friends are few—its enemies, countless. In addition to the usual list of enemies such as crows, coyotes and other animals, our game also has the weather, the plow, livestock and fire to combat.

"Man is strictly a fairweather friend to our game. Our favors are done for wildlife in expectation of later harvesting that same wildlife."

The more we can do for game, the more we can expect game to do for us in increasing our pleasures in the field.

"There are many ways we can repay our debt to wildlife." One task is "to provide our game with a means of combating natural enemies. This may best be done by providing them ample cover."

With this in mind, the Nebraska Game Commission is accelerating its "Homes for Wildlife" program. Cooperating land owners and sportsmen will be furnished planting stock—without charge—for such areas. Both the farmer or sportsman and wildlife will benefit.

The complete story on the problem and how cooperating land owners and sportsmen can receive free planting stock appears in the Spring issue of Outdoor Nebraska, available on April 1. The magazine is published by the Nebraska Game Commission and can be purchased on many news stands or obtained by subscriptions.

Jochim Heifers Hit Omaha Top

Storm-cut supply made for steady to 50 cent higher trade on slaughter livestock Monday at Omaha.

One shipment, that of John Jochim, Cass county farmer, hit the top at the Monday trading. Jochim had 33 heifers weighing 908 that sold at $33.75. Other shippers included Emerson Wiles, 26 heifers, weighing 850 that brought $33.50; and John Dietl, 12 steer calves weighing 468 that sold at $37, and six heifer calves weighing 488 that sold at $33.50.

CENTENARIAN PROVES RUGGED

BOSTON — When 101-year-old Muriel Salisbury was knocked down by an automobile she struggled to her feet and walked two blocks to her home. Neighbors finally forced her to agree to a checkup at a hospital. Doctors found Mrs. Salisbury had suffered several fractured ribs, possible fractures of the right wrist and right knee and a concussion.

Weather Halts Baseball And Track Drills

"We probably won't get outside again before Monday," Coach Merle Stewart said today as he watched his 74 track and baseball candidates bounce each other around on the high school gymnasium floor.

A check of the athletic field showed that it still is spotted with snow and at least two good warm days will be needed before it can be used. That brings the high school sports situation around to Monday.

But in the meantime, cindermen and ball players are limbering up with calisthenics in the gymnasium. Some throwing is possible for the baseball team but is very limited.

Stewart also disclosed that schedules for both squads may be completed by the first of the week, although the baseball schedule may actually be formed on the spur-of-the-moment basis.

In addition to the conference and district meets, plans are tentatively formulated for four additional meets. The meets will be of dual and triangular nature with possibly one invitational. Teams under state regulations are permitted to participate in only one meet each week.

Snow, rain, damp grounds and cold temperatures have combined to keep both the track and baseball squads indoors except for one day. Candidates for the teams reported 10 days ago but have been limited in their activities.

Gary Hild Will Participate In Mock UN Debate

When the Nebraska University Council on World Affairs presents its annual model United Nations conference April 3, 4 and 5, Gary Hild, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hild of Plattsmouth, will represent the Philippines as a co-delegate.

Miss Janis Schmidtman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schmidtman of Plattsmouth, will represent Canada as official delegate at the conference. The model conference is based on United Nations procedure with students conducting the entire conference with faculty advice. The Model Secretariat includes the Secretary General, Assistant Secretary General, Research Director, Technical Arrangements Director, and Public Information Director.

Students from organized houses and organizations will represent countries in the United Nations and work in groups on the various problems discussed in the three-day conference.

Problems for this year's conference are the veto with proposals for its abolition or limitation, and the powers of the General Assembly.
