Bible Comment: World Peace Must Be Built on Foundation Of Righteousness

LAW and ideals are one thing; observances and performances are quite another. Nowhere, perhaps, in all history were there more idealistic regulations than those to be found in ancient Israel. Yet in spite of these, injustice and oppressions were prevalent. Imagine some thoughtful, intelligent, hard-working farmer, who understands the conditions upon which our life and welfare depends, coming into one of our modern cities. He would observe the ease and luxury of those making no real contribution to society, not to mention the evil and corruption that are so rampant. Then you can understand something of what the prophet Amos was to his times. Amos was a herdsman, accustomed to clean living. He was roused to indignation by what he saw . . . "the dust of the earth on the head of the poor . . . the righteous sold for a pair of shoes." He saw the gross immorality of fathers and sons, the turning of judgment to wormwood, and the abandonment of righteousness. He saw the very acts and rites of religion perverted, feasts observed and offerings sacrificed by those who had no true observance or sacrifice in their hearts. Amos represents God as saying "I hate, I despise your feasts; and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies." But he calls for repentance: "Let judgment run down as waters and righteousness as a mighty stream. Don't we need that call today?" The association of righteousness with peace is not accidental. It reminds us of the only true foundation upon which peace can be built, whether it be domestic peace, the solution of industrial troubles or international peace. Organization and negotiation are not enough. We must find, and build upon, a sure foundation of righteousness.

THE KITCHEN TABLE THAT DISAPPEARS
Universal GAS RANGE
 presents the new, exclusive
Wheel-about
 extra table-top Storage Cart

In the large kitchen—a cart
 Take it out of the range and wheel it to any part of the kitchen . . . to the back door to receive the heavy delivery items . . . then to the refrigerator and cupboards, to put everything away in one trip . . . then back to the range.

In the small kitchen—a table
 Just pull the Wheel-about barely out of the range and use it right there for preparing food or for just "setting things down." This is the feature that gives "Extra Table-Top" to the range itself. Runs in and out on a track. Cannot knock against range.

Wheel-about's Top—a cutting board
 Hard maple, so pieced together as to prevent warping. Fits into top of cart, lifts out easily for taking to sink. Think of a real solid cutting board that you can use right at the range! Underneath is a drawer for kitchen tools, and shelves for utensils.

Vanishes—when not in use!
 Wheel-about glides on four rubber-tired ball-bearing wheels. When not in use as a cart or a table, it disappears into the section usually devoted to service drawers, and becomes part of the range itself! Twice the usable capacity of conventional drawers.

the Famous MARLBORO Model
 . . . was chosen to introduce this revolutionary use of the storage space next to the oven and broiler. Sturdiness, insulation, beauty . . . but above all, sheer cooking dependability . . . are ascribed to this model by the women of America, who several years ago spontaneously called it "an excellent baker."
