Nebraska — "Oiling Up for the Future"

Do you know that Nebraska has more acres (8,000,000) under oil lease than any of the surrounding states?

Oil was first discovered in Nebraska only about 12 years ago, at a well three miles east of Falls City. Today, Nebraska's oil production is well over 1,000,000 barrels a year. Our growing oil industry is just one more achievement about which Nebraskans can boast.

You can be equally proud of our state's brewing industry which, for years, has carried on an educational campaign with retailers on the importance of approved tavern operation.

As a result of this program, the general operation of Nebraska's taverns merits high praise.
