

Better Community Is Goal Of T. H. Pollock

coin Telephone and Telegraph Company.
But the leading accomplishment in the mind of Mr. Pollock was obtaining the government rifle range north of Plattsmouth. Working through the quartermaster at Ft. Crook, Pollock agreed to build a toll bridge across the Platte river to give the government access to the rifle range. The building of the toll bridge opened up road advancements throughout Nebraska.
In 1917 Pollock built a garage on 8th street and Pearl street and operated a Ford garage for several years.
Pollock's chief interest now is in Missouri river development commercially. A booster for barge line service for 15 years, he has been a paying member of the Mississippi River Valley Association for the past eight years and with Mayor Clement Woster has regularly attended association meetings.

With A. L. Tidd and the late E. J. Richey, Mr. Pollock succeeded in obtaining funds from the state for construction of a dock and warehouse at Plattsmouth. Local funds were also contributed.

Pollock is now working for the day when river traffic will be on the increase on the Missouri and when Plattsmouth will find that its river front is one of its greatest assets.

Among the 85-year young booster's treasures is a letter from the Department of the Missouri citing him for his splendid efforts in obtaining the rifle range.

"I want to congratulate you upon your new bridge and your success in securing the target range which was so long in abatement, but through it all, it was my opinion that the Plattsmouth range was the best for all those considered. Strong efforts were made by Henry T. Clarke to have his site accepted. They think that you deserve great credit for your efforts now crowned with success and the people of Plattsmouth should be grateful to you for any benefit which may accrue." The letter was signed by Brig. General Fred A. Swetts, U. S. Army.

Old Timers Get Together As T. H. Pollock Feted

To honor the 85th birthday of her father, T. H. Pollock, Mrs. Virgil W. Perry held open house at the family home on High School hill, Friday. Both afternoon and evening periods were enjoyed.

About 150 friends of Mrs. Pollock dropped in to pay their respects. Many beautiful bouquets of roses were received in addition to a number of greeting card messages received from friends and relatives, near and far.

H. M. Soennichsen, A. L. Tidd and L. D. Hatt, longtime friends and business associates of Mr. Pollock, were among the first to call. The old timers had an enjoyable time recalling early incidents of Plattsmouth activity.

In the evening, Walter W. Perry, uncle of V. W. Perry, was one of the guests. While he was there, Fred Hild, Mike Hild, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Tritsch, and later J. E. Wiles, former students of Walter Perry, were callers.

Mr. Hild said that seven of his brothers and sisters were his pupils at one time. Mr. Perry has lived at Orange, California, where for many years he has operated a citrus fruit orchard. He is 12 days older than Mr. Pollock.

The Pollock home was decorated with baskets and bouquets of red, white and pink peonies. The colors were also carried out in the refreshments which were served buffet style. Mrs. Robert Gruetzemacher presided at the punch bowl.

Railroad passenger service deficit 34 per cent greater in 1931.

Eugene Curtiss departed today (Monday) for Parks Field, Calif., where he starts training in the U. S. air corps. Gene is one of the popular and well-liked young men of the community. He expects to be home in the late summer for a furlough before going into active service.
