CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 22, 1952.

The Golden Text is: "Lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth. The Lord, The God of hosts, is his name." (Amos 4:13). Other Bible citations include: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture." (Psalms 100:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "All things are created spiritually. Mind, not matter, is the creator. Love, the divine Principle, is the Father and Mother of the universe, including man." (Page 256).

ITS ENGINE ADDS MUSCLE TO EVERY DROP OF GAS!

To many owners, the mighty 180 H.P. V-8 engine that powers the Chrysler New Yorker is the most remarkable feature of this remarkable car. It is certainly the most discussed automobile engine in many, many years.

This is the engine with hemispherical combustion chambers... the engine that gets more power out of every drop of gas. And non-premium gas at that!

Actually, it puts you in control of more power than you'll probably ever need use. You'll sense this... together with its unequalled response... the very first yards you drive. It runs smoother, more quietly, and with less wear than any other engine ever built into an American automobile.

... and it makes driving (both cruising and the short runs) more fun than you have ever known it to be!

But that's not all. Along with this engine there are scores of other reasons, too, for driving a New Yorker before resolving on any new car. Like Full-time Power Steering that makes steering five times easier... and your control five times greater... than in ordinary cars. Like Power Brakes that cut needed pedal pressure by as much as two-thirds.

Like Oriflow shock absorbers that make even bad roads feel "newly paved"... restful chair-high seats... big, wide-opening doors... big windows that let you see more.

It's true... until you drive a Chrysler New Yorker you won't know what you're missing. Why not stop in today?

Bible Comment: Job Finds Solution: Undying Faith in Our Divine Judge

SOME problems are "modern" in the sense that man has never encountered them before our time. But some problems are as old as man himself, and one thing that is unchanged is the fact that man has to be the problem solver. Some ancient experience and wisdom may have much to offer, even in the presence of problems that are as new as the new-born day.

Deep and unchanging in human life is the problem of suffering, and especially the suffering of the apparently morally guiltless. Much human suffering offers no problem, though the fact may alter its acuteness. It is the direct and observable result of sheer disregard of moral or physical laws. But the suffering of the good is another thing.

It is this problem with which the Book of Job deals. The Book has been called "a sublime drama of God's providence and man's suffering." It's central character, Job, a man of moral rectitude and apparently blameless life, is stricken with dire calamity, in himself, his family and his affairs.

The situation is made intensely dramatic to show the full impact of the problem. Yet it is no more extreme than that which many men and women have experienced today, especially the thousands of innocent people who have suffered war's ruthlessness.

Three of Job's friends sought to comfort him with plausible or conventional notions. These centered around the ideas that suffering is a sure sign of sin and that Job must be guilty of some secret fault.

This easy view Job refuses to accept. His faith is tried, and he is tempted to "curse God and die." But while he finds no solution to the problem of suffering, he finds a solution to his personal problem in the conviction that the Judge of the earth will do right and in the determination to trust Him no matter what may happen.

RIGHT GUESS EARNS $102,000

NENANA, Alaska — Charles R. Montjoy, believed to be an employe of the Alaska Native Service at Juneau, guessed when the ice on the far north Tenana river would go out, bringing him $102,000 as the holder of the winning ticket in the territory's ice pool. More than 130,000 guesses at $1 each were placed in the pool, but expenses cut the pot to $102,000. Uncle Sam will also be a winner—he'll get $69,600 of Montjoy's payoff.

CAB LOSES RACE TO STORK

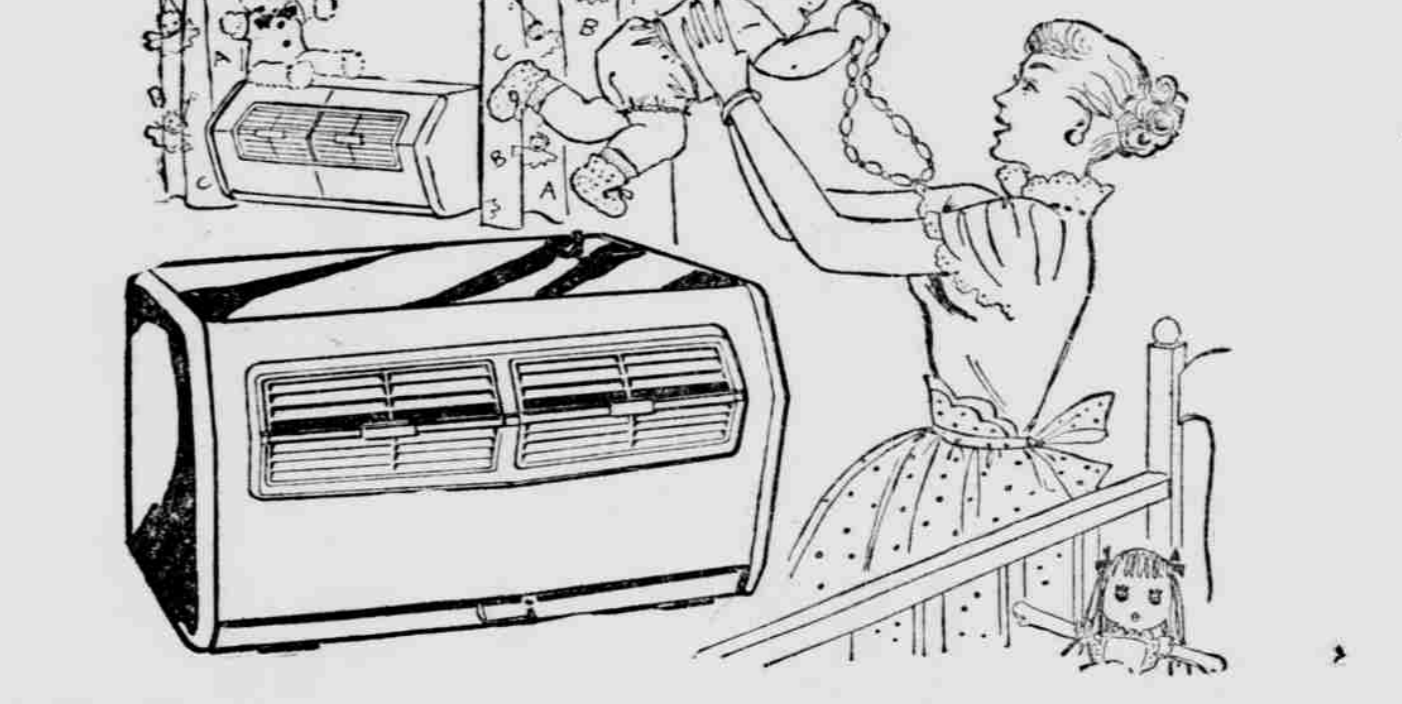

BALTIMORE, Md.—Summoned to rush an expectant mother to a hospital, Morris Winegrad, taxi-driver, did his best to make it before the stork arrived. He was a little too late, however, and two doctors and a nurse rushed out, as he arrived at the hospital, and delivered twins in the back seat of his cab. It was Winegrad's first such experience and he admits, "I was all excited."
