The Golden Text is: "God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ." (I Corinthians 4:6). Other Bible citations include: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined." (Isaiah 9:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ, as the spiritual or true idea of God, comes now as of old, preaching the gospel to the poor, healing the sick and casting out evils." And the world passeth away and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever." I John 2:15-17.

LETTER BOX

The Journal welcomes letters from readers for this column on any subject. Your name must be signed to all articles intended for publication, however, by request, it can be omitted from the letter appearing in print. (Contents do not necessarily express the opinions of this newspaper.)

The Plattsmouth Journal dated August 21st gave front page news to an item "Abrupt End to Cedar Creek Road May Remain" in phrases that sizzle, quote "Commissioner Wm. Nolte explains technicalities are holding up the road."

"When contractors started he agreed to complete the road to Cedar Creek. . . . Delayed unless adjacent property owners can come to agreement on providing county with an easement."

"The Commissioner explained oral agreements with property owners several months ago failed to live up to same."

Two and half miles of road completed by coincidence stops at the very farm of the Hon. C. B. Metzger who together with neighbors must be known beforehand of pending "releases" yet did nothing until the road reached their door step. Then?

In point the efforts of our Honorable Governor, Senator and officials who labored for years to get roads in good shape in Cass county are commendable and none would question the integrity of any, yet, the unexpected happened. Could it be someone pulled a "fast one" on each? Officials know, and so does any high school pupil to say nothing of taxpayers, no state nor county surveys, plans, appropriates money, starts machinery in motion, build a state or county road for two and half miles merely on the supposition an easement may be furnished when an half mile from their goal is reached, and when that party happens to be a state senator, my my. Senator could you let anyone pull that over you. Oral agreements failed to materialize, but permitted work to start and stop at your door.

The writer spent a good half hour last Saturday morning at the Cass county courthouse chasing down the "whys" and "wherefores" of this issue. Got nowhere and Senator Metzger could not be reached for comment. But all conceded to the old fashioned "buck passing" on to the farmer—Taxpayer, who pays for a road that benefits only a few instead of all intended and disagree at plash of roads abrupt termination. Oral agreements at taxpayer's expense are not alone foolish but none believe the real reason has yet been submitted, and look to officials for an honest explanation. Officials who would like their constituency to believe they know all the answers and in reality should know, would do well to give their statements and restore their good names to where it has always been—on top. Anything within reason goes Senator and Commissioners, but reasons to date are as inconsistent with common sense as can be, so how about some action while machinery and construction men are still in the area? You can, if the will to do exists.

An Indignant Citizen

Rev. Taenzler Is Honored On 25th Year In Ministry

A native of Glenwood, who returned to his home town to be ordained, and who five years ago again answered the call at Glenwood, was honored Sunday at the First Christian church for 25 years of service in the Christian ministry.

He is Rev. J. W. Taenzler, who served congregations at both Plattsmouth and Murray before going to Glenwood five years ago.

Reared in Glenwood from the time he was seven years old, Rev. Taenzler graduated from Glenwood high school and 25 years ago while a student in the Bible college of Drake University at Des Moines, returned to his hometown for the purpose of being ordained to the ministry.

Five years ago the Taenzlers moved back to Glenwood. During the five years, 118 members have been added to the Glenwood church, and the minister has performed 78 weddings.

Committee members, who know their pastor as a boy, sent out invitations to all wedded couples who lived in the community and to those who had been baptized by the pastor.

Following the morning worship, a basket dinner was served. Rev. Taenzler received letters from former pastors and friends. During the announcements at the church, the Taenzler twins, on behalf of the church, presented their father with a silver bucket containing 25 silver dollars.

Two from Murray and 39 from Plattsmouth attended the anniversary service. They had been active members in the local Christian church during the eight years Rev. Taenzler served as pastor and Boy Scout leader in Plattsmouth.

Hundreds of residents of the three communities for the future congratulations for the future of Rev. and Mrs. Taenzler, their two sons and six daughters.

C. J. "Button" White, official of the Corps of Engineers at Plattsmouth, has been confined to his home with illness for the past several days.

Miss Patricia Sheehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Sheehan, who recently observed her first anniversary, was born at St. Mary's hospital, Nebraska City, not at Grand Island.
