Thousands Of Fish Suffocate In State Reservoir

The death of 5 to 10,000 fish in McConaughy reservoir was "essentially due to the lack of oxygen" according to a detailed Game Commission's aquatic bio-study made by the Nebraskaologist, Dr. Walter Kiener.

"Most dead fish found had their mouths wide open and their gills extended, which is a sign they perished for lack of sufficient oxygen," said Kiener. "Such kills are not uncommon, and practically nothing can be done to prevent them."

Planting Conference Held At Lincoln

The Great Plains Wildlife Planting conference held at Lincoln ended Wednesday after three full days of discussions and field trips. Host to this year's annual meeting was the Nebraska Game Commission.

Representatives of agencies from 10 different states, all vitally concerned with tree planting, were in attendance.

Highlights of the conference were: Field trips to habitat plantings and shelterbelts in Saunders and Seward counties; tour of a Fremont nursery, and an address by W. B. Lambert, Dean of Nebraska Agriculture College.

Nehawka Bows To Bennett Friday

Nehawka lost a heart-breaker to Bennett on the local gridiron Friday night to the tune of 37 to 14.

Nehawka grid-ders scamppered for 45 yards in the fourth period and added a drop kick in a desperate attempt to get back into the game. Gregg caught a pass and stepped across the two yard line for the first tally. Turner went for the 45 yard distance to add six more points, while Johnson drop kicked for the final two.

Bennett has been setting the pace in the six-man field during the front part of the season, although Eagle stopped their winning streak last week by a 46-32 final score.

Nehawka meets Sterling on the latter's field Friday night.

Platters On Top As They Shift Into Friday's Go

Plattsmouth Blue Devils are favored to win top honors here Friday night under the lights as they shift into position against Omaha West Siders at 8 o'clock, in spite of a few injuries, one of which will put Dick Glaze, guard, on the sidelines with a broken nose.

Coach Merle Stewart has set aside this game night as "Dad's Day" with fathers of all players invited to the school building at 7:20 p. m. to sit in on the pre-game talk and will be given special reserved front row seats for the big go.

Prior to the game, Dads will stand beside their sons on the gridiron while the band salutes the father-son teams with special selections. The school band has also arranged for a special half-time show that should be a crowd pleaser.

Plattsmouth tops the conference league at this point, while Omaha is on the bottom rung. College View handed them a 12-7 defeat, while the Platters took the Lincoln group to a 27-7 trimming two weeks ago.

Max Walker New District Head Of The LT & T

Among several important changes in the managerial staff of The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company, as announced by Merle M. Hale, vice president, is the appointment of Max C. Walker to the position of eastern district manager. He succeeds Thad C. Cone, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Peru on August 30. The Eastern District is composed of most of the company's exchanges located in Seward, Butler, Saunders, Cass and Otoe counties.

Mr. Walker is a member of a telephone family. His service record, combined with those of his father and two older brothers reaches a total in excess of one hundred years. Mr. Walker was first employed in 1926 as apprentice switchman at Lincoln, and was transferred to Hastings as switchboardman in 1929. For the next ten years he occupied various positions in the plant department and in 1939 was made Hastings wire chief. Mr. Walker returned to Lincoln in 1948 as central district plant manager.

In other recent company promotions announced by Merle M. Hale, vice president, Charles E. Meshier, former district wire chief at Beatrice, succeeds Mr. Walker to the position of central district plant manager. Dan Smith, area manager at York becomes district wire chief at Beatrice. Sterling Nelson, area manager, Auburn, goes to York in a like capacity. Glenn L.

Oglesby, manager at Wymore, is advanced to area manager at Auburn. M. J. Danaher, manager at Milford, succeeds Mr. Oglesby at Wymore and Charles H. Kermoade, combinationman at Seward, has been selected as manager at Milford.

Game Birds At Forney's Flats

Good news for duck hunters of this locality who have Iowa hunting licenses. Iowa Conservation Officer Robert Mineck reports that ducks and geese are moving in at the famed water-fowl retreat, Forney's Flats, Iowa, near Bartlett. This is one of the best hunting spots in western Iowa.

A number of Plattsmouth and Omaha hunters have a hunting lodge near the lake and each year have a great deal of sport in shooting ducks and geese that are usually plentiful in that locality.

According to the conservation officer, the influx has been a steady one the past week. Pintails, teal and mallards are in the majority, though a few geese have trickled into the area.

Next open season on Nebraska's outdoor calendar is the duck, goose and coot season which begins on October 11 and ends on December 9.

To the Voters of School District No. 1

We, the Board of Education take this means to thank you for the splendid vote turned out at our recent bond election.

We want to thank all the organizations and also individuals who worked so very hard to put this election across. We are sure that had it not been for the combined efforts of all, this issue would again have been defeated.

We assure you that we will do our best to put your tax dollars where they will do the most good in our school system. Although it is going to take a great deal of careful planning, to build and equip the schools we are anticipating for the amount of money, we still feel that we can build such schools which our children and those of future generations are entitled to have.

Again we say THANK YOU.

BOARD OF EDUCATION,
A. W. Huebner, President
