Bible Comment: We Have Need of Religious Training Within Our Homes

THE formerly common practice of religious education in the atmosphere of one's own home had some fine results as far as impressing the spiritual standards of religious life on members of the family was concerned.

In the Jewish faith, the stately passage: "Hear, O Israel, the Lord, our God is one Lord; and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy soul and with all thy might," is held in much the same reverence as the Lord's Prayer is in church worship of today.

But the full effect of these words went beyond the walls of the synagogue. Jewish families have long been bound together with strong home ties and have religious practices. These practices have had a profound influence. Many people may bemoan the fact that the younger generation does not follow in the footsteps of its elders but this is not a new complaint.

It may be partly true, but decline and recurring revival of interest in religion is not uncommon in the religious history of many people.

In many Christian homes the reading of the Bible and family prayers are common parts of the family life. But in all probability these homes are not as numerous as they once were. In many homes there is probably no religious activity at all.

It would be possible to view the future of our country much more hopefully if the parents in every home would take the responsibility of teaching their children principles of religion in the way the ancient Jews were told to do. Perhaps in the second half of our present century we will see a new surge of interest in this neglected field.

Friendly Neighbors Have Christmas Party Recently
Wednesday A. M., Dec. 17, all members of the Friendly Neighbor Club, each with a covered dish of delicious eatables, gathered at the Carl Richert home for their Christmas party. After the food was placed on a table, all the ladies stood and sang the Doxology, then with trays in hand passed around the laden table filled their plates and then seated themselves around tables in the prettily decorated dining room to partake of a sumptuous meal. Election of officers for the ensuing year was first. An interesting program was very well enjoyed, again singing Christmas carols, after which Santa passed our gifts from the Christmas tree and we learned whom our secret friend of 1952 had been. A lovely day for each to add to her memory gems.

Junior Class Presents Play
Junior Class play, Mr. Merkle's Muddle, was presented Friday evening at the high school gymnasium to a good audience in spite of the icy weather, which was very much enjoyed by all present.

Emil Kuehn Dies on Coast
Word has been received at Murdoch of the death of Emil Kuehn at his home in Long Beach, California. He is being brought back here for burial and services will be held at the Church in Murdoch on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Elmwood.

Again the fire siren awakened residents of Murdoch on Sunday evening about 11:30. Fire had broken out in the garage building, belonging to I. C. McCrory but was leashed by Jerry Messinger.

Dr. and Mrs. Russell Gorthey and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bornemier and children of Lincoln were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Gorthey.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacey McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Eisenman were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Mooney of Elmwood.

The Four Square Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Leo Rikli on Friday afternoon for their annual Christmas party. There was a good attendance.

body and opens up a new world for you.

The New Year is about upon us and I'm all ready with one resolution that in the year, 1953, I will not keep my house too clean! Sounds silly when others may resolve the opposite—but I mean it. A house too clean, especially with children about, simply can't be a home in my notion, and if I don't strive to be too spotless, I'll have more time to spend with my family.

Then, too, in years to come—I'd rather have them remember Mom for her good apple pies and other goodies and for the time taken for walks and other amusements, than to remember how she scolded when they tracked up the floor or left something out of place.

After all—Kids are human! So that explains a resolution I think good for every Mom. Hope I can honestly keep it.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Sixth Street and Second Avenue
Worship Service 11 a. m.
Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force? is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Dec. 21, 1952.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens." (Proverbs 3:19). Other Bible citations include: "In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God. Trust in him at all times; ye people, pour out your heart before him; God is a refuge for us." (Psalms 62: 7, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is infinite, therefore ever present, and there is no other power nor presence. Hence the spirituality of the universe is the only fact of creation." (Page 471).

MERRY CHRISTMAS

At this Joyous Season, when every-day cares are overshadowed by good fellowship and kind thoughts, we sincerely wish you a Merry Christmas.

LETTER BOX

The Journal welcomes letters from readers for this column on any subject. Your name must be signed to all articles intended for publication, however, by request, it can be omitted from the letter appearing in print. Contents do not necessarily express the opinions of this newspaper.

Plattsmouth Journal:
Now I am sending this little sentimental thought to you if you care to pass it on in your paper.

I think it good to let others read it even though they never put it to use. "Happy New Year" to all your staff. We enjoy your paper and like to be help in any way.

New Year Greetings
Just pause for a moment's reflection on how much wiser it is to start the New Year with hope, preparing for better things than to look back with regret.

As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he. It always has been so and always will be. So whatever you think you can do, begin it today.

Never say "I Can't." I know there is nothing worthwhile that may not be accomplished, if one is truly in earnest in desiring to "put it over."

Use what you have to the best advantage. Do not waste time wishing for the charm of possessions of another. Remember, no two snowflakes are exactly alike.

And be satisfied with your own "pasture" in life. There is always someone envying you, your niche in the world.

Remember if you believe in the possibility of your desires, it will put your mind into a creative, productive attitude that is sure to bring forth good fruit.

You will have a happier year if you will learn to love the small pleasures of life. Get some new ideas, you will find that a sense of newness prevades your
