Sure Sunny
 Fly Your Kite, but—keep it away from the wires!
 Flying kites near electric wires can spoil all your fun and actually turn a good sport into a dreadful tragedy. So kids — when you take your kites out, play safe. We're all for you — fly your kites and have fun — but don't take foolish chances. KITES AND ELECTRIC WIRES DON'T GO TOGETHER. FLY KITES IN AN OPEN AREA— NEVER NEAR ELECTRIC WIRES.

USE A GOOD STRONG STRING CUT NEVER A WIRE OR METALLIC CORD. Keep your eye on traffic when crossing roads or streets. If your kite gets into trees or wires, be sensible—call for help to get it down.

Have Fun . . . But Play Safely!

Bible Comment: The Law Was Both Moral and Strong In Jesus' Day

THE Jewish law reached its peak in the ten commandments and in the verses from Deuteronomy, known as the "Shema," which were recited every Sabbath in the synagogue. They must have left a profound impression on the minds of sensitive and serious youths who listened to them over and over again. We cannot overestimate their importance in the development of the Jewish law.

Also, we cannot underestimate the moral and spiritual inheritance the world has received from the Jewish law.

Thus, when Jesus said: "Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets," he added, "I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill."

The law Jesus came to fulfill was the old Jewish law which was a mass of rules and regulations that must seem bewildering to the average reader. Jesus made a distinction between the moral precepts of the law and the petty regulations.

This distinction is revealed, for example, in the conversation Jesus had with the lawyer who asked how to inherit eternal life. "What is written in the law?" asked Jesus.

When the lawyer replied, reciting the two commandments which tell us to love God and to love our neighbor, Jesus affirmed the answer. "Thou hast answered right; this do and thou shalt live."

But the lawyer needed a clearer definition. He asked, "Who is my neighbor?"

Jesus said, "You can be a neighbor to anyone who needs your help." In these last words lies the true moral of the law. It directs the hearer to practice neighborliness-unlimited.

A still deeper meaning lies in this sentence. That is the fact that it means neighborliness, not in terms of the other fellow who might benefit from your good deeds, but in terms of yourself.

and tells us "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." (Rom. 3:23). Because of sin, God is going to pour out his judgment upon this wicked world. I'm happy to say I have put the world behind me and the cross before me. Please confess your sins to the Lord, dear friends, and accept Him as your Saviour.

not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him." (Isaiah 64:4). Other Bible citations include, "How excellent is thy loving-kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings." They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures. For with thee is the fountain of life; in thy light shall we see light." (Psalms 36:7-9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "The three great verities of Spirit, omnipotence, omniscience, omniscience— Spirit possessing all power, filling all space, constituting all Science—contradict forever the belief that matter can be actual. These eternal verities reveal primeval existence as the radiant reality of God's creation, in which all that He has made is pronounced by His wisdom good." (Page 109).
