CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sixth Street and Second Avenue
Ancient and Modern Nihilism, Alas Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Demagogues, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 31, 1953.

The Golden Text is: "They that observe lying vanities forsake their own misery." Says: "The Lord is with you." "My brethren, count it all joy when we fall into divers temptations; knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him." (James 1: 2, 3, 12)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The robes of Spirit" it are white and glittering," like the raiment of Christ. Even in this world, therefore, let thy garments be always white. Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him." (Page 267)

Bible Comment:

The Explanation Of the Apostle Paul's Conversion

HOW sudden are conversions? It is doubtful that Paul's conversion was as sudden as it seems to be.

In his persecuting zeal, Paul was traveling toward Damascus after leaving the scene of Stephen's martyrdom. For some strange reason he had not been active in that murder but had simply kept watch over the garments of those who stoned Stephen to death.

The sight of that good man, praying for the forgiveness of his murderers and calling upon Jesus to receive his spirit must have left an impression on Paul which he could not erase.

The first effect would be to make him more intense in his persecution of the Christians, kicking against the pricks of conscience and trying to stifle his doubts by becoming all the more furious in his hostility toward the Christians.

But when he was stopped on the road to Damascus, and saw the vision and heard the voice, he knew what it all meant.

This was the moment when the light burst through and illumined his soul. But there had been a long period of preparation in the years of religious education and growth. There was another period of immediate preparation which is seen in the various doubts which arose in his mind as he saw the calm heroism and faith of those he was persecuting.

The word "Jesus" had a new meaning for Paul as he heard the voice say: "I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest."

Paul is not the only man to experience this moment of drama in his life. Sincere men have been won over to beliefs which they were studying so that they would be better fitted to attack those beliefs.

Much is possible when men are sincere and in earnest. But there is little hope for the man who is too apathetic to have any convictions at all.
