Police officials in the Eastern States warn that the device may soon appear in their section of the country, and advise motorists to forestall the danger of successful burglaries by installing automatic alarm systems. These systems would be connected with windows and doors, as well as the trunk, and when the thief attempted to enter, a bell would go off.

While this might be a good suggestion, we doubt whether many motorists will take advantage of it. When life reaches the stage where we must all equip our cars with elaborate burglary alarm systems, it has certainly become tedious.

* * * ENSON ON BEEF PRICES

D Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said recently he had been encouraged by increased purchase of beef by the American housewife. He credited this increased consumption with checking the fall in beef prices, which has continued for almost two years.

The Secretary noted that average prices as of May 15th had risen slightly from a low reached in April. The decline, therefore, appears to be halted, he concluded.

The Agriculture Secretary, in commenting on increased beef consumption by the average American family, said some families were including beef on their diet every day in the week, whereas many of them formerly served beef only on Sunday, or once a week. The Secretary called this change in U. S. eating habits a tremendous factor in stabilizing the market price of cattle, even though the farmer, he admitted, is still caught between high costs and low beef prices.

MALENKOV VS. BERIA?

Beria. The recent purge of the Ukranian Communist Party boss is attributed by many observers to the influence of Beria.

This, and other evidences are taken as an indication that Beria is gaining the upper hand in the Kremlin and that he is probably allied with the man who was the No. 2 Communist in Russia while Stalin was alive-Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

Foreign observers could not miss the interesting fact that Ukranian newspapers had glamorized Premier Malenkov to a far greater extent than had papers in Russia proper. Whether there is any connection between this and the top Ukranian Communist's removal from office is yet to be definitely established. It is accurate to report that his removal has added weight to the school of opinion that Beria, and probably Molotov, are now wielding great influence inside the Kremlin.

A strange lack of publicity about the new Premier - Georgi Malenkov - has been noticed by observers in recent months. This has heightened the speculation that Malenkov is having a difficult time establishing his position as dictator of the U.S.S.R. While no one in the United States can predict the course of affairs which will transpire in Moscow, it

Meanwhile, there is speculation whether Addai Stevenson will be able to win another nomination easily. Already some Democrats on Capitol Hill say they want a fresh face and a fresh candidate in 1956, and that such a candidate is the only chance for a victory three years hence. Stevenson might have more of a fight for the Democratic nod than had heretofore been antisipated.
