The answers to everyday insurance problems
By STEVE DAVIS

QUESTION: I understand there is a special insurance policy for guns. Does this cover such things as a bursting barrel or broken stock?

ANSWER: Not unless the damage is caused by fire, windstorm, burglary theft or damage in public transit according to the normal Gun Flicater policy. Better insurance for the ordinary hunting gun is provided by other coverage about which a good insurance agent can tell you.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answer and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.
